The Death of the American Constitution

Source: The Hill, By Grady Means, opinion contributor - May 20, 2020
Contributed By Franklin Motte - Moreno Valley CA

During the past couple of weeks, Americans have seen unprecedented authoritarian behavior on the part of many governors and local government leaders, and the chilling possibility that the Obama White House intentionally weaponized the National Security Agency, FBI, CIA, IRS and other federal agencies to attack domestic political opponents.

At the same time, the government and the tech community have made huge strides in expanding the surveillance state, often termed fascism. The concepts of democracy, personal privacy and property rights are rapidly becoming quaint concepts from a bygone era.

Many Americans and legal scholars have been screaming that all of this is unconstitutional and plainly illegal. Regrettably, what they all have missed is that, for the past 50 years, America has had a covert "Constitutional Convention" under way, which has dismissed much of the Bill of Rights and radically restructured American rules of governance and the criminal justice system.

We have become a Nation of Men (and Women), rather than the Constitution's Nation of Laws. When President Obama repeatedly referenced the "living Constitution," he really meant the dead U.S. Constitution.

In his book, "The Age of Entitlement," Christopher Caldwell makes clear that the period since 1964, what I've called the "Constitutional Convention," began with the civil rights laws and expanded welfare programs of the 1960s.

Those programs were designed to right historical American wrongs to African Americans and create huge social justice programs that have cost trillions of dollars to bring tens of millions of Americans out of poverty and into the mainstream of American life. But they also unleashed a constitutional virus that wreaked havoc across America for 50 years.

By creating loosely defined views of "fairness," "equality" and "human rights," they opened a Pandora's box. The emergence of identity politics has fragmented America, creating new "rights," grievances and demands for endless "communities" in the country. It has built stronger alliances among "identity" segments, rather than unifying the country as a whole, made identity rights paramount and made the rights of American citizens, as a whole, secondary.

In essence, a "New Constitution," with a vast set of new "rights," has resulted.

The problem is that new "rights" for everyone leads to no sustained rights for anyone. It is worth noting that many authoritarian countries have frameworks similar to the American Bill of Rights - they simply don't enforce them. "Legal activism" puts America on that track.

Today, the flood of "rights cases," combined with a tidal wave of unconstitutional behavior by government officials and some in the tech community, overwhelms the judicial system. This allows "justice" to become more arbitrary (and "illegal") and prevents the federal courts and Supreme Court from sorting out the chaos.

The result is authoritarian and dictatorial behavior by the government and legal systems. The associated result is that all Americans lose. It edges toward anarchy. Many Americans are slowly awakening to something new and alarming. The military, who've fought for freedom, must despair.

African Americans are among the prominent losers under the New Constitution. For example, conferring a wide swath of "rights" and benefits on illegal immigrants, who are, in fact, illegally here, takes away the hard-earned jobs and rights of all Americans, but especially African Americans. Hispanic American citizens and women are other prominent victims.

All of this increases income inequality since it destroys the gains made by these groups before the coronavirus pandemic, with real hope and change coming through the lowest unemployment rates for them in history.

Unions also are prominent victims. For example, the arrival of immigrant health care workers - many replacing doctors and nurses furloughed under states' ban on elective procedures during the pandemic - will transform health care.

QUALIFIED IMMUNITY

Ninth Circuit Court Rules Police Can Steal Your Stuff And Not Be Charged!

Source: Riverside Press-Enterprise - May 17, 2020 * By Patrick Jaicomo and Anya Bidwell

“Thou Shall not Steal” We all know stealing is wrong. It’s one of the Ten Commandment and a moral principles observed across cultures and history.

So, you’d think police would know too. But according to the 9th United States Circuit Court of Appeals, you’d be wrong. Applying a judge-made doctrine called “qualified immunity,” the court held that California police who stand accused of stealing $225,000 cannot be sued because they never were told specifically that stealing money from people’s homes violates the Constitution.

Such an opinion is outrageous. The nonprofit Institute for Justice recently filed a brief urging the U.S. Supreme Court to weigh in and do away with qualified immunity.

The theft case is Jessop v. City of Fresno. It involves two business partners, Micah Jessop and Brittan Ashjian, who operated and serviced ATMs. Suspecting that the men were operating an illegal gambling business, Fresno police searched their homes and other property. They did not discover any criminal activity, and neither man was charged with a crime.

But after the police left, Micah and Brittan discovered criminal activity by the officers. They had taken more than $200,000 in rare coins and cash, including currency kept on hand to restock ATMs.

Micah and Brittan filed a lawsuit, arguing that police had violated the Fourth Amendment by stealing their money.

But the trial court held that police were immune from liability. And the Ninth Circuit agreed, holding that even if stealing money from a person’s home violates the Constitution – an issue the court declined to decide – qualified immunity shields the officers from accountability.

Created by the U.S. Supreme Court in 1982, qualified immunity was a drastic departure.

Thanks to qualified immunity, they remain untouchable. In other words, the doctrine became what the Supreme Court promised it would not: a license for officials to break the law. It’s time to end the immunity.

Qualified immunity now protects even those government officials who intentionally break the law.

Among many other examples in 2019 alone, courts around the country permitted police to blow up an innocent woman’s house, shoot a 10-year-old child while trying to kill a non-threatening family dog and dump a mentally infirm man along the highway at dusk, where he was hit and killed by a car.

After almost 40-years of abuse, the Supreme Court should revisit the issue with the Jessop case along with the other 12 up for consideration.

Courts should uphold the Constitution, not create ways for government officials to get around it.

Pelosi-Care’s 1,800 Page $3-Trillion Blue State Bailout DOA In Senate

Pelosi introduced the Socialist Democrat 1,800 page HEROES Act on Tuesday, a $3 trillion spending bill that includes so many progressive measures that the Republican leaders have deemed it dead-on-arrival in the Senate.

Particularly on immigration issues, the legislation would make many illegal aliens eligible for $1,200 relief checks, along with a number of anti-enforcement measures. Which is only a distraction from the more costly proposed expenditure.

“She wants to use U.S. citizens’ taxpayer money to pay illegal aliens ... They commit- ted a crime and entered this country illegally, they are in violation of law for working in this country illegally,” Tom Homan said. Homan led ICE early on in the Trump administration.

The Act also provides a trillion dollars for Democratic States to help bail them out from their financial mismanagement.

The bill also forbids federal grant money from being withheld from sanctuary cities, and it calls on ICE to release detainees who do not pose a “threat to public safety or national security.”

Facts or Fiction?

According to the current U.S. statistics of the 2020 death rate as of April 30, 2020 is 6% lower the past 2-years.

It as also appears the leading cause of death is the coronavirus. Which may very well be true.

But given the financial incentive of $34,000 for the hospitals to claim the coronavirus as the primary cause of death is a no-brainer.

Not to minimize the seriousness of the coronavirus it raises a host of questions. The first being: Was the shut down of the Nations economy really necessary? And the second question is; Why the $34,000 coronavirus death bonus?

The statistics also show a decline in all other causes of death which again is understandable given the amount of money involved. After all business is business and politics is bording on criminal.

Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe Battle South Dakota Governor

In the escalating conflict between the Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe and South Dakota Governor, Kristi Noem over the tribal coronavirus checkpoints on major highways crossing the 4,270-square-mile Cheyenne River Indian Reservation.

Governor Noem a Republican, has threatened to file legal action against the tribe to remove the coronavirus check points.

The Tribal Chairman, Harold Frazier has made it clear that he believes the “...tribe’s sovereignty allows it to have The checkpoints are essential to protecting the health of the people on the reservation.” Which is supported by the Constitution and Treaty Rights.

Here is the irony, the Governor. as a Republican supports President Trumps policies of protecting the sovereign borders of the United States of America but does not honor the Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe sovereign right to protect its borders.

And in contrast the Tribe claims their sovereign rights to protect their borders yet they do not support the United States of America’s sovereign rights to protect its borders as championed by President Trumps.

They both appear to be supporting the same concept but are still at odds. Maybe it has nothing to do with sovereignty and its all about political power and control.

Washington State ID to Eat But Not to Vote: Governor Orders Restaurants to Track Dine-In Customers.

Source: WE♥TRUMP * May 15, 2020

Washington Governor Jay Inslee has ordered restaurants to track every dine-in customer if they want to reopen.

According to the order, restaurants must demand that customers show their IDs and then keep a log of everyone who eats there.

This is Inslee's attempt to make contact tracing easier if a breakout happens... and record where and when people eat.

Restaurants are required to keep their logs for 30 days, which include the customer's phone number, email address, and date and time they came to eat.

While we understand the desire to keep people safe, our leaders must also understand that we have inalienable rights as well as rights protected by the Constitution.

But many critics worry that this level of tracking sets a dangerous precedent.

There are legitimate constitutional concerns about the government's ability to track

At the end of the day, we all have personal responsibility and have the freedom to make the decisions that are best for ourselves and our families.

Judge Jeanine Pirro; “This is a political hack job”

Retired Army General Michael Flynn, and former National Security advise to the President, pleaded guilty in late 2017 to lying to FBI investigators about his contacts with a Russian ambassador.

The Department of Justice (DOJ) formally sought to drop the case against him in early May 2020 over new evidence that show he was entrapped by FBI agents.

Judge Emmet Sullivan instead appointed an apparently biased outsider to review the case and consider perjury charges against Flynn.

Pirro, who is a former prosecutor and judge, said that the decision shows that Sullivan either doesn’t understand the law, or is too politically compromised to care about justice.

Sullivan’s decision was made more troubling by evidence that the former judge appointed to review the case, John Gleeson, is prejudiced against Flynn.

Gleeson wrote a Washington Post article arguing that the motion to drop the Flynn case “reeks” of political malfeasance.

Pointing to a tirade that Sullivan gave in 2018 accusing Flynn of treason, Pirro said that the judge is clearly biased.

Oddly, Gleeson once wrote that it would be an “abuse of discretion” for a judge to refuse a prosecutor’s suggestion to drop a case, the New York Post noted, he seems to have changed his mind this time around.

Pirro is right: This is persecution, not justice, and Sullivan is way out of line. How could something like this happen in the United States?

Black Racist & Hate Monger Chris Rock wants white kids to be shot.

Source: Truth Uncensored - By Dorsano - May 16, 2020 * Contributed By Andrea Marquez, Soboba Tribe CA

Black racist Chris Rock in a resent anti-white tirade said he wants white kids to be shot. The highly paid comedian's twisted logic is that "real equality" would include "white mothers" crying about their dead children on TV.

"I wanna live in a world with real equality. I want to live in a world where an equal amount of white kids are shot every month." He said. "I wanna see white mothers on TV, crying, standing next to Al Sharpton, talkin' about, 'We need justice for Chad.'"

"Whenever a cop guns down an innocent black man," said the 53-year-old later in the routine, they call the cop a "bad apple. ... Bad apple: that's a lovely name for murderer."

As the federal government's data shows, far more white people are fatally shot by police than black people.

A 2015 Washington Post study found that 49% of those fatally shot by police were white, while 24% were black.

The fact that more white people are shot than black people is of course unsurprising because whites represent a higher percentage of the population than blacks (62% and 13%, respectively).

According to that study then, blacks are 2.5 times more likely to be fatally shot than whites.

However, other studies that have drilled into the details of the specific cases more closely, including this Harvard study, found that in similar situations, there is no significant racial disparity in fatal police shootings.

To watch a black comedian with a net worth of $70 million in a country with a majority white population whine about his victimhood is just pathetic.

And for anyone who thinks it's okay for Rock to spew this kind of hatred for whites in a video because he's a 'comedian,' you may not want to watch the video because there's nothing funny about anything he has to say:

"My dad used to say: 'You can't beat white people at anything...nothing. But you can knock 'em out.'"

"In my neighborhood, there's like 3- 4 black people in my neighborhood in Alpine. It's me, Gary Sheffield, Mary Jane Blige, Patrick Ewing." Hall of Famer, Hall of Famer, greatest R & B singer of our time."

"Who lives next to me? What's the white man next to me? He's a dentist. He didn't invent anything, he's just a dentist. That's what America is."

(So, going to college and becoming a successful dentist is something that was 'given' to him?) Tell the third generation white coal miner about his 'white privilege' Chris.

Tell the white single mom flipping burgers by day and cleaning hotel rooms by night about her "white privilege" Chris.

Maybe, just maybe, if you took off your racist goggles for 5 minutes, you might see that blacks don't have the market on victimhood.

Waiting for the outcry from the Socialist Democrat or the mainstream media. Not a peep from any of them.

Sure sounds like hate speech. But I guess only white people are racist.

This wrong on so many levels and because he's a black Socialist Democrat he is free to promote racism and hate with impunity.

November 3, 2020 we have an opportunity to stop this BS!

CA Gov. Gavin Newsom Sued for Giving $75 Million to Illegals

A lawsuit seeks to stop Democratic California Gov. Gavin Newsom from doling out roughly $75 million in taxpayer funds to foreign nationals living unlawfully in the country.

Judicial Watch, a conservative legal firm, filed a temporary restraining order against Newsom to keep him from spending about $75 million of state taxpayer funds on direct cash benefits to illegal aliens, the firm announced on Tuesday.

"Judicial Watch's California taxpayer clients asked for a temporary restraining order because Governor Newsom plans to rush plainly illegal direct cash payments, using taxpayer dollars, to illegal aliens." Judicial Watch President Tom Fitton said in a statement.

"The governor has no legal authority on his own to spend state taxpayer money for cash payments to illegal aliens, and coronavirus doesn't give him or any other politician a pass to violate the law." He added.

In April 2020, Newsom announced that his administration would distribute $125 million in coronavirus-related assistance funds to illegal aliens.

This disaster relief assistance program is a public-private partnership initiative, with California taxpayers ponying up $75 million and another $50 million covered by philanthropic donations.

The relief program is intended for illegal aliens living in the state who don't qualify for the stimulus package Congress passed in March. Recipients can receive a one-time cash benefit of up to $500 and households can receive up to $1,000 to deal with the economic downturn caused by the COVID-19 pandemic.

Newsom's administration anticipates to dole out cash to roughly 150,000 illegal alien adults. Newsom, when announcing the program, said 10% of California's workforce is undocumented.

Remember, the government is supposed to work for us and represent us... not control us!

ARE WE A CONSTITUTIONAL REPUBLIC OR NOT?

"Time to stand up and be counted."

By Danney Edward Ball - May 18, 2020 * Hemet CA

The unelected government officials are being allowed to make rules, regulations while the taxpayers work, (or used to). This is the "deep state" if you will. For many decades "we the people" have been trusting and complacent and have let this creep into our schools and government.

No matter what, in the long run, government produces nothing that it doesn't take from the taxpayer. The debt lies on the back of the (legal) working US Citizen.

Interesting that Senators, Congressmen, Governors, Supervisors, Councilman, Mayors and almost all government workers declared themselves "essential" and continue to receive their salaries, medical and retirement while declaring their subjects (US Taxpayers) nonessential!

Can we ever dig out from this additional $4-6 trillion debt? How many individuals and small businesses do we want to be devastated? How high do you want your taxes to go?

I am a conservative, I back whoever is Our President, I want the US to win this battle, I want our free markets to succeed, and I want the most generous country on earth to get healthy again. The undermining of this President is historic and it is created by the hate inside the Democratic Party and deep state. To them we are nothing more than a pawn being used by the press and liberal leaders.

Bucky Harjo Shared a Memory

Source: Shayne's Journal #4579 May 15, 2020

I am very glad I am not of today's generation as they do not have a true feeling of reality but a digital emotional reality. They are not going to remember how it felt deep within to standing someplace so rich and full of energy and beauty. I can remember the feel of how it is to be standing in some of the most beautiful places in my youth. I can still see it with eyes wide open or when I dream. Nowadays it is about the selfie and posting 24/7.

Not many get out to see this beauty. For me, when I hike I feel a connection to the universe, mother earth, to life. When I hike or walk, I feel life, breath life hear life, smell the life, taste life. Remembering how it feels to be cradled in the arms of your mother, is what it feels like remembering days and places, not scrolling back at digital photos for memories.

People don't like the feel of the wind thru their hair, fearing how the wind will mess up their style, of the wetness of the rain, that is a BLESSING. Tomorrow there will be emotional bond with the real world, just digital memories. Know what I am saying?

I don't mean driving to a beautiful point, parking the car and walk a few feet, I mean getting out there, I become part of the earth wherever I hike, I smell like sage, plants, and dirt, and river if there is one, cuts and bruises and soreness, but it's all good. I may take a few (hundred) photos, but when I'm not, I am filling my heart soul and spirit with the beauty that is all around me, because

I might have tripped and rolled down the mountain! Haha a little joke there. I love life and thankful to have lived the life I have lived, when I need a little spirit lift I have those memories to feel upon, not a digital memory. Thank you for your time

BOMBSHELL: FBI Agent Peter Strzok Was Friends with Judge Presiding Over Michael Flynn Case

Source: Truth Uncensored - By Dorsano - May 13, 2020

The Democrats have been talking about collusion for over a year and insisting that it exists, and it does, but not with President Trump or his campaign, and they know it, they just won't acknowledge it. Nor will the mainstream media who are co-conspirators in keeping the fake news Russia conspiracy swirling around the president. They are desperate for any distraction from the truth and that can be proven simply by watching CNN for a short time.

Point in case, you will not hear about the new text messages discovered by congressional investigators between the two FBI lovebirds who were colluding against President Trump since the presidential election.

The text messages revealed that one of the agents who worked on the Trump-Russia investigation was close friends with the judge who had presided over Michael Flynn's case before being abruptly recused.

The text messages, handed over by the Justice Department to Congress, show that FBI Special Agent Peter Strzok and his mistress, FBI attorney Lisa Page, had discussed Strzok's personal relationship with District Court Judge Rudolph Contreras and whether or not it would be a conflict of interest.

According to investigative journalist Sara Carter, Page wrote to Strzok on July 25, 2016, referring to the secret court that grants surveillance warrants under the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act: "Rudy is on the FISC! Did you know that? Just appointed two months ago."

It is not clear whether Strzok's relationship with Contreras had anything to do with his recusal on the case, and some legal experts point out that it is not uncommon for federal prosecutors to know judges outside of the courtroom, particularly those serving in the same area.

Alturas Youth, "Girls Rising" Record Hit CD Resources for Indian Student Education, Inc. (RISE)

By Kandi Maxwell, Tsalagi - May 13, 2020

In March 2020, four young Alturas girls released their first CD single under the group name "Girls Rising" through Baby

The "Girls Rising" members are lead singer Angela Nichole, Isabel Figueredo, Randi Urban and Marina Figueredo. (See Photo Right)

The youth are singers on the drum Rising Nations and students in Resources for Indian Student Education (RISE).

They are part of the RISE Medicine Wheel Project and a collaborative team who filmed a prevention documentary on tobacco prevention that was to premiere at State Conference in March. The conference was cancelled due to National health concerns.

During filming, the girls recorded a plant song to enhance a scene about prevention of commercial plant use. They entitled the album Don't Abuse The Medicine.

Producer Jack Kohler, of On Native Ground, was impressed with the girl's performance he filmed them in a feature music video.

The "Girls Rising" song has a fresh yet traditional message with an upbeat sound that is widely appealing.

The CD will air on FM stations KZFR 90.1, KMVR 89.5, and KIDE 91.3, and other Native American Public Telecommunications across the country.

The young group's music video will be submitted to the Native American Music Association and is released to the RISE Channel on Vimeo at <https://vimeo.com/showcase/6959884>.

The "Girls Rising" group will be traveling to sharing the message of honor and health within the local area and to perform at the next NAMA in New York.

These young leaders serve in the community, train teams in northern California and present conference workshops.

"4 Worms in Church"

Source: Shayne's Journal #4579 May 15, 2020

4 worms and a lesson to be learned! A minister decided that a visual demonstration would add emphasis to his Sunday sermon. Four worms were placed into four separate jars. The first worm was put into a jar of alcohol. The second worm was put into a jar of cigarette smoke. The third worm was put into a jar of chocolate syrup. The fourth worm was put into a jar of good clean soil. At the conclusion of the sermon, the Minister reported the following results:

The first worm in alcohol...Dead.
The second worm in cigarette smoke...Dead!
The third worm in chocolate syrup...Dead!
The fourth worm in good clean soil...Alive?!
So the Minister asked the congregation, "So, my friends, what did you learn from this demonstration?"
Young Maxine, sitting in the back, quickly raised her hand and said, "As long as you drink, smoke and eat chocolate, you won't have worms!"
That pretty much ended the service!

George Soros Funds Mail-In Voting

Source: Conservative Institute *

The George Soros Open Society Foundations is an international far-left funding network that was created by billionaire currency speculator George Soros. Among the recipients of its aid is the Center for American Progress, an organization that claims to promote "bold, progressive ideas."
One of the group's current ideas revolves around expanded mail-in voting throughout the United States, something about which Danielle Root recently wrote. According to the group's website, Root serves as "associate director of voting rights and access to justice" at the CAP. "State officials must not delay in implementing vital policies such as vote by mail and extended early voting for upcoming elections - nor must Congress delay providing additional funding in the amount of $4 billion as recommended by noted experts for states to make all necessary upgrades to election procedures and infrastructure in time for upcoming elections," she wrote, according to Breitbart. However, she also argued for maintaining in-person voting along with same-day registration to aid those demographic groups that "traditionally rely on in-person voting." Examples named by Root included African Americans and people living on Indian reservations.

Republicans fear fraud: A concern ignored by Root, however, is the widespread suspicion that increasing the number of mail-in votes could give an advantage to Democrats by enabling voter fraud.

Lawsuit Claims U.S. Rep. Ilhan Omar A Qatar Asset

A lawsuit filed in Central Florida has triggered accusations that the government of Qatar is recruiting American politicians to serve its interests. These accusations stem from the case of Pasco County resident Matthew Pittard, who levels some strong accusations. He worked for the brother of the emir of Qatar, whom Pittard claims was an abusive boss. While the litigation proceeds in a Florida court, Pittard's attorney, Rebecca Castaneda, deposed others who had interactions with the emir's brother and Qatari officials. One of them, Canadian businessman Alan Bender, claimed senior Qatari officials asked him to recruit Americans who they could help finance into elective office, who in turn could serve the political interests of Qatar. Bender claimed Qatari officials said they already have one such asset, U.S. Rep. Ilhan Omar (D-MN). If proven to be true wouldn't this be considered Treason?

Trump Signs Executive Order To Cut Regulations

PERMANENTLY

Source: WE ♥ TRUMP May 20, 2020

President Trump just signed and Executive Order making permanent many of the cuts in regulations that have been made in order to get the economy moving again.

Senior Trump administration officials told the Daily Caller that the Regulatory Relief to Support Economic Recovery Executive Order "...is the first time in living memory that a president has responded to a national crisis by deregulating instead of grabbing more power."

The order calls for federal agencies to waive, suspend or eliminate red tape as the nation recovers from the coronavirus pandemic.

"Regulations are going to be cut ... go to town, do it right, do it safe," he said from the White House. The goal is to boost the economic recovery from the coronavirus pandemic shutdowns, but Trump said he hoped any regulations waived at this time would be gone for good.

"Because with millions of Americans forced out of work by the virus, it's more important than ever to remove burdens that destroy American jobs," he said.

As of April 28, the Trump administration had put 277 deregulation orders into place since he took office, according to The Brookings Institution. And the Trump administration has added 3,281 rules to the Federal Register, the fewest since records began in the 1970s, according to the Competitive Enterprise Institute.

THIS is why we elected Donald John Trump and it's why we're going to re-elect him in November!

When campaigning in 2016, President Trump promised to cut two regulations for every one new one he put into place.

If we can live without these regulations during the recovery, and if living without them will actually improve the economy, then why not make the cuts permanent?

Finally, the order outlines a 10-point "Regulatory Bill of Rights" designed to give small businesses security in expanding their workforce.

Both Acting Office of Management and Budget Director Russ Vought and Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs administrator Paul Ray praised the move in statements to the Daily Caller.

"Typically when our country has faced a crisis, Washington responds by grabbing more power," Vought explained. "President Trump understands the goal is to boost the economic recovery from the coronavirus pandemic shutdowns."

"Because with millions of Americans forced out of work by the virus, it's more important than ever to remove burdens that destroy American jobs," he said. moving, the power needs to be given back to the people and entrepreneurs." Trump said.
