

Queen Nancy Pelosi

“Let Them Eat Ice Cream”

AMERICA’S Marie Antoinette

“Let Them Eat Cake”

My View - Ernie C. Salgado Jr.

On APRIL 14, 2020: Pelosi’s TV interview on CBS’ “The Late, Late Show with James Corden” from her 7.5 million dollar California estate shows how out of touch she and the Socialist Democrats are with the hard working average Americans, like “Joe the plumber.”

Standing in front of her refrigerator and freezer that costs $24,000 each, which is more than millions of Americans earn a year, Pelosi told Corden that she has a passion for gourmet ice cream at $13 to $15 a pint and ever opened the freezer to show it stocked full. All this while over 22-million American workers and counting are struggling to put beans on the table to feed their families.

However, she failed to mention her passion for booze. Maybe the gourmet ice cream was a sham.

Was she actually drunk during the interview? “Let them drink booze” might have caught on.

During the time Pelosi was showing off her gourmet ice cream collection on late-night TV, Senate Socialist Democrats, backed by Pelosi were blocking a move to appropriate $250 billion in loans to small business owners unless Republicans gave in to their demands just shows how far removed Pelosi is from working people. And why not after all they scammed the American taxpayer for over $700-billion dollars in the CARES Aid.

One demand by California senator Dianna Feinstein was to send billions in aid to Iran. The details of the “Bail Out” is still pending.

It seemed fitting to compare Pelosi to Austrian-French monarch Marie Antoinette, who is quoted to have said upon learning that French peasants had run out of bread to eat; “Let them eat cake”

Regardless of the obvious that the Socialist Democrats don’t care about the American workers. They will continue in lock-step to bring about the “Transformation of America” to a Socialist Government.

Let’s pray that America gets back to work before the buffoons decide to extend the shut down of the Nation forcing the American people to be dependent on the Government for their basic needs; food, shelter and safety. Welcome to the new Democratic Socialist America.

Socialist Democrats Bragging On Blocking Money For Workers To Gain Political 'Leverage'

Far-left caucus pushing coronavirus relief for illegal aliens

By WND Staff Published April 22, 2020

U.S. Rep. Pramila Jayapal, D-Wash.

A House Democrat admitted she and her progressive colleagues are blocking relief to small businesses to gain leverage to advance their far-left agenda.

In a virtual news conference on Monday (April 20, 2020) with progressive lawmakers and activists, U.S. Rep. Pramila Jayapal, D-Wash., insisted illegal immigrants should receive coronavirus relief, The Blaze reported.

"We don't know what's in the package yet, we only know what's been reported," Jayapal said during the #PutPeopleFirst conference.

"But I think what you're hearing from all of us on the call is that we have real concerns about giving away leverage now without getting some of the priorities we need."

Video of the remarks were posted on Twitter by the Senate Republican Communications Center.

"Think about that: Democrats would rather use workers as partisan leverage than actually help them," the tweet said.

Also in attendance were members of the "squad" of far-left freshmen, Reps. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez of New York, Rashida Tlaib of Michigan and Ilhan Omar of Minnesota.

The proposed "Phase 3.5" of the coronavirus relief package is aimed at small businesses impacted by the shutdowns in response to the pandemic.

On Tuesday afternoon, the White House and congressional leaders announced an agreement on the core components of the relief bill.

Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell said Democrats have given up on a number of "unrelated demands" during the final stages of negotiations. He said the 12-days it took to reach an agreement is a costly delay for American workers.

President Gives Shoot Orders

President Donald Trump said in a tweet Wednesday that he told the United States Navy to shoot and destroy Iranian gunboats that provoke American military ships.

"I have instructed the United States Navy to shoot down and destroy any and all Iranian gunboats if they harass our ships at sea," Trump told his Twitter followers. The president's tweet comes after reports Wednesday suggest Iran's paramilitary Revolutionary Guard launched a military satellite into orbit.

Trump is also dealing with heavy economic headwinds as governors and mayors continue a series of economic lockdowns as a means of slowing the coronavirus spread, which has killed more than 45,000 people in the U.S.

A report from the State Department noted that Russia, Iran, and China are launching misinformation campaigns accusing the U.S. of creating the virus.

Better to Die A Free American Than To Live Under the Rule of Socialism

My View - Ernie C. Salgado Jr.

First, just to be clear, It is not my intent to down play the seriousness of the pandemic, my point is that we, as a Nation have been here before and survived without the destruction of our economy. Logic and common sense don't warrant it. However, the collapse of the backbone of our Republic would benefit the Democrat Socialist agenda as well as China.

For over the 243-plus years of the existence of the United States of America we have suffer multiple epidemics, pandemics and other health crisis and not once did we shut down the Counties free enterprise system.

"We The People" of the United States of America are under siege by the American Democratic Socialist, One Word Order, Green Weenies, anti-America extremist and their propaganda allies, CNN, CBS, NBC, New York Times, Washington Post, Time Magazine and let is not forget the entertainment industry just to name a few whose agenda is to bring about the "Transformation of American" to a Socialist Country.

Another conspiracy theory is your first thought, but please read what I have to say and you decide.

Since the 1960's with the "Peace Movement" the Nation has been systematically pushed to the left. It is textbook Saul Alinsky's "8-Steps to a Socialist Government." If you don't know what Alinsky's "8-Steps to a Socialist Government"

The current State and local Governments overreach, especially in the Blue Socialist Democratic States have trampled on the Constitutional rights of the people. Some examples are the illegal use of drones to spy on the people, the absents of free choice, freedom of travel, the lose of our rights to gather, even as a family, the shortage of food and other essential needs and the authoritarian polices, directives, orders and mandates issued by our elected officials.

And not to mention the quasi police state that is taking hold. Some examples of the abuse of power; A pastor was arrested for holding church services, a man was arrested by 15 police at the order of the Governor for protesting across the street from an abortion center while on a public sidewalk that was open to the public, a man in San Diego was arrested by the Coast Guard for fishing in the harbor, in a boat by himself and put in jail and placed in a holding cell with a number of other people, in Los Angeles a family holding a birthday party for a one-year old in a private home were removed from the home by 18 police at the order of the mayor for violating the "Social Distancing" mandate. The list of civil rights violations is endless. This is a preview of rule pf a Socialist Government would be like.

Although the ACLU and other Socialist activist movements started in public during the 1960's it slowly moved forwards until 2008.

On November 4, 2008 the American people were duped into electing a smooth talking Socialist/Communist politician as the President who vowed to bring about the "Transformation of American" with the "Redistribution of Wealth." And again, Alinsky's "8-Steps to a Socialist Government."

I have dubbed him the "Manchurian Candidate" because he had his personnel records sealed by a court order and nothing about him was allowed to be made public. And anyone challenging him was demonized, investigated and harassed. Yes, this really happen in the United States of America. The irony is that he ran on a platform of total "Transparency" and millions of Americans bought in to it "Line, hook and sinker" and still do.

And for those of you that don't believe in coincidences' the Chinese research lab in Wuhan that is reported to have invented the coronavirus was funded by the "Manchurian Candidate" President Obama. Just providing some closely guarded facts.

One excellent example of the demonized, investigated and harassed of an individual was "Joe the Plumber" s as he was dubbed by the media. Here was a guy standing in his own front yard, minding his own business went a complete stranger shows up with an entourage of news media with video cameras. The "Manchurian Candidate" introduces himself a the Democratic candidate for the Presidency of the United States of America. He spouts his ideology of the "Redistribution of Wealth." "Joe the Plumber" simply responded, "That it sounded like Socialism to me."

Eleven Government agencies illegally launched investigation into ever aspect of his life causing him to suffer lose of income and harassment by these agencies. His life was never the same again.

Obama was elected President and was highly successful in moving the Country farther to the left. Unemployment rose to an all time high, thousands of American were on food stamps, Temporary Aid for Needy Families and the national dept went from $9-trillion to $19-trillion. All this in keeping with the 8-Steps guidelines to bring about a Socialist Government as set forth by Saul Alinsky.

Had the Democrat/Socialist 2016 Presidential candidate, Hilary Clinton been elected President the "Transformation of America" would have been complete.

After 8-years of decline of the economy the "Silent Majority" of American people finally woke up to what was happening to their America and to the surprise of the world and the Nation they elected a colorful, outspoken and quick tempered billionaire business man with no political experience as their President.

However, from the day he declared his candidacy he came under attack for many quarter including the illegal involvement of many government agencies. The opposition has been relentless for the past 3-years of his Presidency. Even with all these distractions and no support from the left he has brought the Country back from the brink financial bankruptcy to a world economic power again. And for the first time in the history of the Country we are energy independent in addition to becoming a major exporter of oil and gas in the world.

Over the past 30-plus years Chinese has risen to a world economic power to the point that not one Nation including America dare to challenge them on the manipulation of their currency, import and export tariffs and corporate espionage until now.

President Trump has forced them to the negotiation table and has leveled the trade market so that it is not one sided in China's favor. In doing do he was able to offer better tax incentive to the manufacturing industry to return to America creating million of jobs. Over the past 3-years America has become the world economic leader once again.

But, that is not want the Democrat/Socialist want. They want the American people dependent on the central Government.

Was the Chinese Virus AKA Coronavirus an accident or it was intentional? We may never know. However, their cover up, with the aid of the corrupt World Health Organization (WHO) was intentional and criminal. The WHO, at the bidding of the Chinese, even after it began spreading throughout Europe down played the dangers of the virus with the Countries around the world.

Given the WHO's history of corruption this is not shocking news, yet not one Country did anything to address the problem, not even the United States. Like the United Nations (UN) it is a self-serving worldwide organization mainly supported by the United States. However, as President Trump exposes the WHO as a corrupt organization the Socialist Democrats oppose him and the even side with China.

Why would the Chinese kill thousands of their own people to infect the world and specifically the United State? One must first understand the mental mindset of the Chinese's long term goal for power and domination of the world. People are expendable and considered collateral damage. Unbelievable? When the Communist took over China they murdered over 20-million of their own people while the rest of the world stood by and did nothing. And to this day human rights are unheard of in China.

Are the Democrats and their anti-American allies in consort with the Chinese? I don't believe that to be true. But it really doesn't matter because they have taken full advantage of the crisis to further their Socialist political agenda. First, they have been successful in crating a Nationwide crisis and panic through the free mongering their propaganda machine the mainstream media. They have succeeded in forcing the shutting down of the Nation's economy bring the world to a potential financial collapse of which the world has never seen.

Close to 25-million Americans are out of work while Congress votes themselves a raise. And the far left Socialist Democrats are telling the people not to return to work.

They have been successful in pirating the stimulus aid by forcing the inclusion of almost a trillion dollars on political PORK that does nothing to combat the pandemic but includes $300,000,000 for "Immigrants," $25,000,000 for toilet paper for Congress and $40-Billion for the Department of Education.

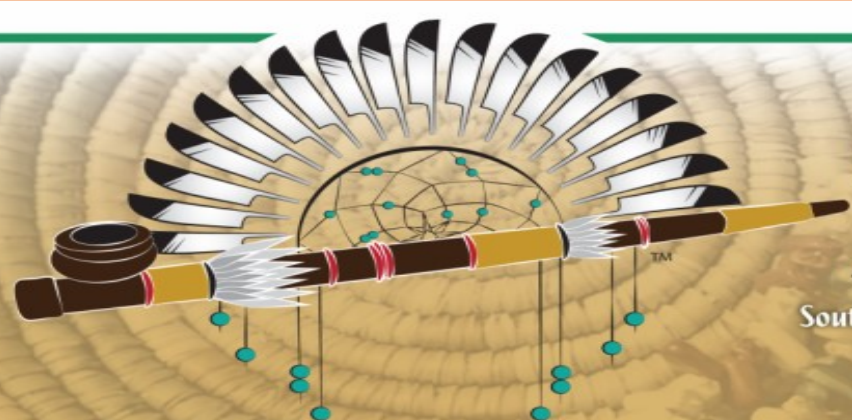

And to add to the absurdity California Senator Dianne Feinstein is demanding billions of dollars in aid be sent to Iran while her Socialist Democrat colleagues are on national television bragging on how they blocked the aid for American small businesses. (See page 1)

They are still demanding more PORK, but the GOP is saying "No Way Jose." But we'll see if they have the courage to hold the line.

Our Country is in serious danger of being taken over by the Socialist Democrats and the "Transformation of American" to a Socialist Government.

Maybe God is looking after us by sending the coronavirus so we might see up close and real what a Socialist Government looks like. And the preview is only a glimpse of the dictatorship and tyranny that will be unleashed on the American people.

Charlie Two Doggs Corner “One Day At A Time”

By Ernie C. Salgado Jr.

Remember me? My name is Charlie Two Doggs, I was introduced to you in February as your new “Imaginary” American Indian Reporter advocate for the elimination of Alcohol and the Abuse of other drugs and Domestic Violence in Indian Country and the return to Tribal Customs, Values and Traditions.

For clarification, Alcohol and the abuse of other drugs and Domestic Violence has no racial, sexes or wealth barriers. It's an equal opportunity disease/illness. However, for the purpose of this publication I will be dealing with the American Indian Tribal Community.

What is not fiction is my message on Alcohol and the Abuse of other drugs and Domestic Violence. In Indian Country these issues are as real as it gets as the horrors that many tribal families have endured from Domestic Violence would make Freddie Kruger look like a saint. Again, my preference is the 12-step program offered by AA and NA. Almost every town or city in the Country have AA or NA meetings. Check you local paper, church, Internet or ask someone. Make sure you have a dollar for the offering. If not go anyway, no one cares, everyone is just like you, looking for sobriety.

Below are the original 12-steps as published by Alcoholics Anonymous (AA):

- 1) We admitted we are powerless over alcohol—that our lives had become unmanageable.
- 2) Came to believe that a power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.
- 3) Made a decision to turn our will and our lives over to the care of God or higher power as we understood Him or it.
- 4) Made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves.
- 5) Admitted to God or higher power, to ourselves, and to another human being the exact nature of our wrongs.
- 6) Were entirely ready to have God or higher power remove all these defects of character.
- 7) Humblly asked Him or the higher power to remove our shortcomings.
- 8) Made a list of all persons we had harmed, and became willing to make amends to them all.

9) Make direct amends to such people wherever possible, except when to do so would injure them or others.

10) Continued to take personal inventory, and when we were wrong, promptly admitted it.

11) Seek through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God as we understood Him, praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out.

12) Having had a spiritual awakening as the result of these steps, we tried to carry this message to alcoholics, and to practice these principles in all our affairs.

Charlie Daniels: Politician the Worst Coronavirus 'Scammers, Gougers, Hoarders'

Words 'to express the contempt I have for them are not in my vocabulary'

Source: Since 1997 WND A Free Press for a Free People - By WND Staff April 4, 2020 Contributed by Ashley Salgado-Galvan, Soboba Indian Reservation

Country-rock superstar Charlie Daniels, whose full schedule of concerts at the age of 83 has been suspended because of the coronavirus, blasted "scammers, gougers and hoarders" seeking a quick profit amid the crisis.

In his weekly Soap Box column, he makes it clear that the worst among the scammers who target the most vulnerable and helpless among us" are the politicians.

Some Americans, he said, are getting their hands on scarce and vital products and jacking up the price up to ten times its worth. Others are simply buying much more than they need "with no thought or concern about who they are depriving."

"Then there are the politicians who try to gain political advantages by playing the blame game, who lack the honesty to admit their own faults," he said.

"Nobody personifies the worst in America more than Nancy Pelosi and Adam Schiff who are, even now in the middle of a situation that threatens America's health and economy and it affects every man, woman and child in the nation, are making plans to hold a hearing on President Trump's handling of the coronavirus pandemic.

"The words I would need to express the contempt I have for them are not in my vocabulary," he said.

"It's the same Nancy who encouraged San Franciscans to 'Visit Chinatown, we think it's very safe in Chinatown,' as the coronavirus was beginning to take hold and people rightfully feared going to Chinatown or other areas for fear of contracting it."

Schiff, he said, is the "same lying, leaking, sniveling reprobate ... who told the American people that there was proof of collusion against Trump [and] started an investigation into a phone call the president had with the president of Ukraine."

"I liken Pelosi, Schiff and all the rest of the Democrats who support this madness to deserters who walk away from the life and death battle the country is fighting and pursue their own sordid purposes," Daniels wrote. "At a time when America desperately needs 'all hands on deck,' the Democrats have chosen to take another shot at tearing the nation apart, and in stringent sanitary protocol the sad thing is. They know it's just another fruitless witch hunt."

Among the country's best are the "doctors, nurses, EMT personnel, and the maintenance staffs at the medical facilities [who] daily walk into the belly of the beast, constantly in danger and living under forced diligence of self-preservation where a faulty face mask, forgotten eyewear or any slip up could result in contracting a deadly disease."

He also commended the police and fire departments, the truckers and farmers.

Daniels has been honored for his gospel music, Southern rock anthems and country hits.

He started out in the blue grass genre with the Misty Mountain Boys and moved to Nashville in 1967.

Elvis Presley recorded a tune Daniels co-wrote titled "It Hurts Me," which was released on the flip side of "Kissin' Cousins." He played on such landmark albums as Bob Dylan's "Nashville Skyline."

Should Illegal Immigrants Vote In American Elections?

YES

NO

First off, to even consider the question that if illegal immigrants should be allowed to vote in any election in America is beyond absurd.

What part of "Illegal Immigrants" is not understood?

These people have broken federal immigration laws by entering the United States of America "illegally" again, the magic word that the Socialist Democrats don't want to accept, which means "not legal," "Broke Federal immigration Law" and as such they are criminals.

However, even as resent as the middle of April 2020 the Socialist Democrats were able to set aside $300-million in the stimulus bail out for "immigrants" and you can bet a big chunk will go to assist the illegal immigrants.

And for all the American Indian and Alaskan Natives that continue to support the Socialist Democrats they threw you a bone of $2.5-million for housing. The $8-billion was on the coronavirus side of the ledger, which was still shorted by $10-billion.

But the U.S post office need $20-billion to offset the addition cost it incurred from the sweetheart deal with Amazon.

And let's not forget the $40-billion that went to the Department of Education which made the Teacher Union very happy.

Now the American Indian Tribes are in conflict with the Alaskan Natives over the $8-billion. An old Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) strategy of pitting one tribe against another, divide and conquer. For some mysterious reason the tribal leaders don't seem to learn.

Suggestion, is for the American Indian Tribes and the Alaskan Native unite and go back to congress and "Get Your Fair Share".

Shelter in place. Social Distancing. Pandemic. Zoom. And a few words based in science.

The globe now shares a new vocabulary and on the web, institutions have been ripped to the core.

The Age of Information is now viewed by all as instantaneous communication has been the way information, fear, ideas, and entertainment have been shared over the last few months, to say nothing of the shift of daily commerce.

For tribal leaders, the traditional roles remain the same: the safety and welfare of the community. Within that circle, the spiritual, the cultural values and the understanding of an individual's relationship to the ecosystems of their surroundings and each other is the responsibility of each member.

On the day to to day level, the reliance of the world population on electronic media signals things will never be "the same". (Not that every day is the same, or to borrow from the Jewish liturgy, "Why is this day different than all others?").

The supply chain, education, telemedicine and much more has become electronic. Many institutions will find ways to continue in this mode as a means of survival. The operational and maintenance costs of large-scale developments will be re-examined to adopt cost-saving practices, notably reduced employment. As those that have read my dribblings since 2000, "society" will have to revisit concepts of labor.

What does this mean for tribal communities?

A lot will depend on their geographic location, size, and population.

Immediately, it means that access and availability to electronic media is essential unless the community decides to become a self-sufficient isolate. Both are attractive poles.

If the former, reliable broadband and "last mile" access are paramount. Funding for such is included in the CARES Act. Hopefully, y'all are aggressively on it.

If the latter is chosen, reorganization of every day life of each individual community member dictates a return to many traditional practices, supra-protection of corporate status/land/natural resources, and a clear vision of the future.

As usual, a mix is probably reality.

Since the world is neither black or white, ying or yang, but in a moment of vacuum, sucking it all in, the time for tribal leadership and community development has never been better.

The economics, or rather the long-term consequences of COVID 19, portend a world-wide depression. Perhaps, for the first time in a long time, the "isms" of socialism, capitalism, and communism, will cease to be bandied about and the communalism of indigenous groups will re-emerge as have so many traditional practices.

In the meantime, there are many tasks to be accomplished. In the coming decade, the incomes from national, state and local jurisdictions will be vastly reduced, if not zeroed out. Thus entities must find ways to rebuild production of goods and services without much capital infusion.

Starting with safety and welfare, tribal communities need to examine their emergency response protocols and capacities. From everyone being trained in first-aid to the green/yellow/red paper-in-the-window check systems, there are many cost-effective ways to create a base of security.

The fact that many farmers across the nation are dumping or plowing under their crops means that the supply of fresh foods will hit crisis in September.

And it will impact the packaged food industry as they will have little product to can or freeze, elongating the diminished food supply for at least a year or two.

So what is the status of the tribal food bank and "Victory" gardens? Clean water systems intact? Alternative energy systems implemented? Water rights and groundwater protected?

The impact of closed schools and colleges-on-line offer so much opportunity for groups to implement curriculum and faculty that it is dizzy with potential. So no more whining about lethargic school systems.....get out there and do it!

"Traditional medicine" has enjoyed a resurgence of respect and use. CHR's dramatically demonstrated the value and impact of outreach and contact. One no longer needs an eight year degree to accomplish many western medicine health checks and chores, especially with the aid of electronics. Have you re-evaluated or designed your health station or clinical practices?

To borrow a phrase: "It was the worst of time; it was the best of times".

Learn More-Trivia: From Shayne's Journal

Although Europe is a leading chocolate producer nowadays, the treat can be traced back to Mexico, which has been cultivating cacao plants since 1900 BC.

The Olmec were the ones who started the process of roasting and grinding the beans, then mixing with water, honey, vanilla, and chili peppers to create a bitter drink. Mayans and Aztecs believed that the benefits of chocolate were god-like, and eventually reserved cacao for royalty. Spanish conquerors transformed the drink into the sugary substance we know (and eat too much of) today.

Hernan Cortes introduced chocolate to Europe, and the rest is history. Today, the average American consumes 12 pounds of chocolate a year. Thank you, Mexico!

Thanks to Teddy Roosevelt, the United States didn't bulldoze its sprawling forests. Instead, we ended up with millions and millions of acres of beautiful protected wilderness, where Americans can commune with all kinds of nature.

Tongass National Forest in Southeast Alaska is the biggest of all of them. It covers 16.5 million acres, roughly half the size of North Carolina. There's no shortage of activities either. Take a hike, spot some eagles, camp, fish, or ride a dog sled across a glacier. There are also a few cultural centers in the forest, where you can learn about native culture, geology, and wildlife.

Nacogdoches was founded in 1779 and is said to be the oldest city in Texas. A native Caddo tribe, called the Nacogdoche, first inhabited the area around 800 A.D., remaining there until the Spanish claimed ownership.

When the Spanish later lost control, a series of conflicts broke out, culminating in the 1832 Battle of Nacogdoches between Mexico and Texas. Texas claimed victory and later joined the United States in 1845.

Located in eastern Texas, Nacogdoches remains one of the most historic towns in the Lone Star State and attracts visitors worldwide, just like it did centuries ago.

Five might sound like it's wrong, but let's count them off. Everyone gets Atlantic and Pacific relatively quickly. Then you have the Indian Ocean and the Arctic Ocean, which is getting a lot of attention recently, what with all the melting ice caps. The one we hear the least about is the Southern Ocean, which is the youngest. Not youngest in that it just formed, but youngest in that it was only officially defined back in 2000, when the International Hydrographic Organization set its limits.

If you want to get truly technical, there really is just one ocean: The boundaries and names of these five are purely human inventions.

Among the most iconic and important waterways in American history, the Mighty Mississippi begins at its source in Lake Itasca, Minnesota, and ends in the Gulf of Mexico.

In total, the Mississippi River is over

2,300 miles long and is fed by tributaries from 32 different U.S. states. Though many might assume it's the longest river in the country, the Mississippi is actually in second place behind the Missouri River, the longest river in North America.

The root of the word Mississippi begins with "Messipi" — a French interpretation of the Native American Anishinaabe term "Misi-ziibi," which translates to "Great River." This 2,348-mile river is the second largest on the North American continent.

It starts in northern Minnesota in Lake Itasca and goes through 10 U.S. states before emptying into the Gulf of Mexico in Louisiana. At its widest point, the Mississippi River stretches seven miles. Interestingly, many of Mark Twain's stories feature the Mississippi river, which helped cement it into American folklore.

Contrary to its name, Two Ocean Lake does not drain into two oceans. That trait is unique to Isa Lake in Yellowstone National Park in the northwest corner of Wyoming. At an elevation of 8,262 feet, Isa sits at the top of the continental divide, so high that it sometimes overflows with snowmelt in the spring, forcing the lake to drain in two directions. In one direction, water flows to the Firehole River in the west and then zigzags, eventually ending up in the Atlantic Ocean via the Mississippi Delta. In the other, water from the east passes into Shoshone Lake, then zigzags west via the Columbia and Snake Rivers, at last arriving in the Pacific Ocean. That's a big feat for a small lake!

Hawaiian King Kalakaua and his sister/successor, Queen Liliuokalani, once called Iolani Palace home. Located in Honolulu's downtown, the palace served as the official residence for the monarchy from 1882 to 1893. Built by "The Merrie Monarch," Iolani featured opulent furniture, international ornaments, and royal portraits, as well as the first flush toilet and electric light system in all of Hawaii.

The royals were overthrown by the U.S. government in 1893, Hawaii became a U.S. territory in 1898, and finally a state in 1959, where the Iolani Palace served as the states capitol building. Nowadays, when you visit, you can go on a walking tour of the historic area, including a self-guided audio tour of the palace.

In general, the East Coast of the United States tends to be more densely populated than the rest of the country (largely due to these states' smaller size). With that in mind, New Jersey takes the ultimate title of most densely populated state.

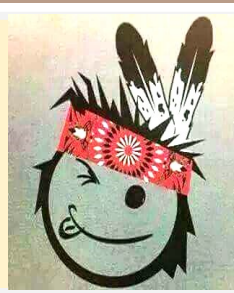

According to World Population Review's 2019 estimates, the Garden State has a population of 8,922,547, making for a density of 1,213 people per square mile. This is just ahead of Rhode Island's 1,022 people per square mile. Compare that to the vast land of Alaska, which boasts just one person per square mile, or Wyoming, with six per square mile.

Are you dying of boredom and live on the Rez? Clean your damn yard.

Three weeks of home schooling my 7, 9 and 12 year olds
went surprisingly well!
They have all graduated High School and are now ready to move out and get jobs when quarantine is over!

REMEMBER WHEN WE HAD TO SMACK THE TV
BECAUSE THE CHANNEL
WASN'T COMING IN CLEARLY?
I FEEL THAT WAY ABOUT FAR TOO MANY PEOPLE.

It's like being 16
again
Gas is cheap and I'm Grounded.

COMMON SENSE
IS LIKE DEODORANT.
THE PEOPLE WHO NEED IT MOST NEVER USE IT.

I wonder why we are so so obsessed with trying to find intelligent life on other planets, when we can't even find intelligent life here?

TRUMP'S ECONOMY MEANS MORE AND MORE YOUNG PEOPLE WILL FIND JOBS AND MOVE OUT OF THEIR MOTHER'S BASEMENT

OMG TRUMP IS SEPARATING CHILDREN FROM THEIR PARENTS !!

Listening to Pelosi and Schumer talk about a fair trial is like taking Ex-Lax and trusting a fart.
