Saginaw Grant: 'I had to believe in myself'

Saginaw Grant's acting career began as a writer conducting a writer's seminar in the Bay Area of California. One of his clients asked him if he wanted to be in a commercial. The client asked Grant what type of acting he had done in commercials or on stage. Grant replied, "Only a reindeer in a Christmas play in the first grade."

"I had to believe in myself that I could do it, and I did," Grant, a citizen of the Sac and Fox Nation, said in a Native Trailblazers interview.

Grant did the local commercial in the San Francisco area. It led to another. Then a filmmaker saw his commercial and asked him if he wanted to go to Hollywood and act in a film.

"That's how I got started. I had no idea I was going to become an actor," he said.

Within a few years, Grant established himself as the go-to Native American actor throughout his career, having met and interacted with a plethora of industry professionals.

Grant, a hereditary chief of the Sac and Fox Nation of Oklahoma, died on July 28, 2021, at 85 years old. The actor died peacefully in his sleep at a private care facility in Hollywood, California, according to Lani Carmichael, Grant's publicist and longtime friend.

"He loved both Oklahoma and L.A.," Carmichael said. "He made his home here as an actor, but he never forgot his roots in Oklahoma. He remained a fan of the Sooner Nation."

Grant was born in Pawnee, Oklahoma on July 20, 1936, to Sarah and Austin Grant, Sr. at the Pawnee Indian Hospital. He was raised on a farm in Cushing, Oklahoma, and had two brothers and a sister. He was also raised with strong Native traditional influences as his grandfathers, Kirvin (a traditional medicine man) and Saginaw (after whom he was named) both taught him customs, culture and the importance of ceremony.

The social post also cited Grant's love for traditional gatherings:

"Saginaw was always happiest at pow wow sharing the love, energy and tradition of his people. Watching the children grow in the traditions of their ancestors and to share in the spirits of dance to the beat of the drum brought him both joy and peace."

Grant was a U.S. Marine Corps veteran and had attended the Ponca Military Academy and served in the Korean war. He was a longtime active participant in the National Gathering of American Indian Veterans.

In the 1980s Grant began acting and in the decades following, Grant has appeared in a significant number of films and television programs to include "The Lone Ranger" with Johnny Depp, "The World's Fastest Indian" with Anthony Hopkins and the controversial Adam Sandler film, "The Ridiculous Six."

Grant also appeared on several television programs to include "Breaking Bad" the CBS series "Harts of the West," "Nash Bridges," "My Name is Earl," "American Horror Story" and "Shameless."

In addition to his work as an actor, Grant also appeared at many speaking engagements. He said in an interview on Native Trailblazers radio that young people were his focus in terms of sharing traditions and culture.

"I enjoy talking to young people and to all people," said Grant in the interview. "I listened to my grandma and grandpas. I think that's what young people should do today, is listen. Retain something of what was said to you. Our grandmas and grandpas didn't lie to us when they told us how to live their lives. They didn't lie to us because they wanted us to be successful, they wanted us to be productive, they wanted us to be happy."

A highlight of Grant's career was his role as Chief Big Bear in "The Lone Ranger" where he worked with Johnny Depp.

Grant says that part was among the favorites in his career as he detailed in an 2013 Indian Country Today interview.

"This role, 'The Lone Ranger.' I really like the part I played, even though I do get killed; I probably have died in a lot of movies I've been in. I probably hold the record there. Floyd [Red Crow] Westerman and I kind of argued about this. I said, 'I died more times than you do.' That's just the way it is, I guess. I've been very fortunate because people seem to like my look, because it's an 'Indian' look. I'm not a star or anything, but I've been able to stick here and have work. And I've been becoming pretty well known - especially since people found out that I'm in 'The Lone Ranger.' They've really paid attention to me now. I feel good about it," Grant said

Grant continued to work with iconic actors throughout his career to include Anthony Hopkins and others. Perhaps most importantly, Grant said in another Indian Country Today interview is that it was important for Native actors and actresses to pursue their dreams.

"We have fine actors, fine actresses who have done some good work, but I don't think that we have enough yet. I think that we belong in this field of work and we can get there. It may take a little bit longer, but there's a need for it, this Hollywood movie making and everything. We found a place here. There [are] people like Graham Greene, Adam Beach. There are a lot of our people who've made and live good lives this. I said, 'I died more times than and who help people. That's one you do.' That's just the way it is, I thing about our Native people: We're always willing to help someone. We were willing to give someone a chance. But I don't look back and relive something that happened in the past. There's nothing we can do to change it. But I can only make it better for our people."

According to the Facebook post, Grant was survived by "survived by his daughter Lisa Grant, daughter-in-law Dodie L Kent, grandchildren Cassandra and Vanessa Kent and Della Grant, and great-grandchildren Joseph Soutter, Sherry Jo Soutter, Stephen Soutter, and Micah Little Crow, his brothers Austin JR and Francis SR, Publicist Lani Melisa Carmichael, his adopted son Rick Mora, a soon to be grandson Chayton Mora, adopted daughter Heather Everette, and his many nieces, nephews and cousins in Oklahoma."

A memorial for Grant will be held in the Los Angeles area, but details haven't been finalized, Carmichael said.

Good Reasons to Recall Newsom

September 14, 2021 VOTE YES ON RECALL - Then Vote for a New Governor

MY VIEW by Ernie C. Salgado, Jr.

- STOP the State imposed mandates - KEEP schools, parks, churches and stores open
- STOP housing, food stamps and health care for illegals - STOP the use of taxpayers funds to pay for housing for illegal - STOP the 1.5 Billion in taxes to pay for illegals health care
- STOP More Taxes to pay for the Bullet Train to nowhere
- STOP the proposed funding of dope zones for illegal drug users
- STOP the on-going attacks in the 2nd Amendment of the Constitution
- STOP the release of dangerous criminal from prisons including illegals
- STOP the continued attempts to raise PROPERTY TAXES protected by Prop 13

- RESCEND the gas tax that nobody know where the money goes!
- RESCEND SB 145 which allows Pedophilia and voids what was once called statutory rape. (Yes, a 20 year old man or woman can have “consensual sex” with a child that is 10-years old or older as long as the age difference doesn’t exceed 10 years. This is wrong on so many levels and if it doesn’t turn your stomach nothing will, God help us.)
- Here is another reason to think about recalling Newsom. Why did he allow Antifa, Black Lives Matter, Cancel Culture and other domestic Terrorist groups to riot, loot, attack and injure police and unarmed firefighters and destroy private and public property during the mandated shut down while law bidding American citizens were harassed, arrested and jailed for not wearing a mask, visiting elderly grandparents or for trying to attend church or go to work.
- . If that’s not enough for you to recall him, he is part of the Washington D.C. elitist mob. That is correct, believe me. Newsom is Nancy Pelosi’s NEPHEW! Surprise!

The Socialist Democratic Party's MESSAGE: WE RULE AND WILL RUIN YOUR CAREER AND LIFE IF YOU DON'T COMPLY WITH OUR NARRATIVE

MY VIEW by Ernie C. Salgado, Jr.,

Source: Various Internet news outlets

Governor Andrew Cuomo's political problems actually started in January 2021 when he "Demanded" covid-19 funds from the new Comrade Biden administration. No doubt he was advised to tone it down but given his arrogance he ignored the warning.

The first signs of his falling from the good graces of Socialist Democratic elitist was the hint in the main stream and social media that the Department of Justice in New York was "Looking into the covid-19" nursing home issue. Once again he failed to acknowledge the warning.

So the big bomb was dropped on him. But, in their hast to punish Cuomo the DOJ in also sought records from Pennsylvania, Michigan and New Jersey, which adopted similar rules that the DOJ said "may have resulted in the deaths of thousands of elderly nursing home residents."

Oops, so the Biden DOJ promptly drops the civil rights probe of Gov. Cuomo over nursing homes and COVID-19. "We have reviewed the information provided by these states along with additional information available to the Department," Deputy Assistant Attorney General Joe Gaeta wrote Friday. "Based on that review, we have decided not to open a CRIPA investigation of any public nursing facility within New York, Pennsylvania, or Michigan at this time."

Rep. Steve Scalise scolded the Department of Justice for dropping civil rights lawsuits from states that violated CDC guidelines in nursing homes. In a prepared statement, Scalise called it "outrageous that the Department of Justice refuses to investigate the deadly 'must admit' orders issued by governors in New York, Pennsylvania, and Michigan that resulted in the deaths of thousands of senior citizens."

"Where is the justice for nursing home victims and their grieving families? These deadly orders contradicted the [Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's guidance, and needlessly endangered the most vulnerable among us to the deadly COVID-19 virus," Scalise said.

"New Yorkers deserve answers and accountability. I was the first member of Congress to call for an investigation into Governor Cuomo's corrupt criminal coverup and I will continue to fight for the families who lost loved ones because of the cruelty and corruption of our Governor," she added.

"The Justice Department turned its back on seniors who died. The Justice Department covered up the cover-up," Pabey said.

"I do believe this is political. Biden doesn't want to shed a negative light on Cuomo, the Democrats and the Democratic Party. He's trying to sweep this under the rug."

"Biden is covering up for Cuomo and other Democratic governors who followed his lead. Imagine if Trump did this? It's a shame that this is partisan and grieving families are caught in a partisan game. It's a partisan cover up. Who do we turn to now?! No one is curious about thousands of vulnerable elderly people died of COVID through no fault of their own."

Nazis used to call it
"control of information."
Today, they call it "fact checking."

But Assemblyman Ron Kim (D-Queens), whose uncle died in a nursing home after suffering symptoms of COVID-19, said, "I think it's too premature to conclude that the Biden administration is letting Cuomo off the hook."

Family members of COVID-19 victims claim President Joe Biden is covering up the mistakes of Democratic governors. Duh! You think?

As we already know nothing will be done about the covid-19 nursing home murders. Frankly the Socialist Democrats don't care as it was just a tool to get at Cuomo.

However, the good old "Me Too" strategy will serve as the catalyst to end Cuomo. The "One Party Rule" ideology will not allow anyone to challenge the Socialist Democrat ic narrative or their lackey leadership. There is only one political point of view, the Socialist Democrats!

Cori Bush handed Republicans a 2022 gift

"Defund the Police"

By Analysis by Chris Cillizza, CNN Editor-at-large August 5, 2021 * Edited by Ernie C. Salgado, Jr., American Indian Reporter

Missouri Rep. Cori Bush (D) sit-in at the US Capitol to protest the lack of an extension of the eviction moratorium put public pressure on the Biden administration, forcing a reversal on the issue.

That win thrust her into the national spotlight. And something she said while in said spotlight is likely going to haunt her party next fall. In an interview with CBS on Thursday, she said this (bolding is mine) when asked about her use of private security:

"I'm going to make sure I have security because I know. I have had attempts on my life and I have too much work to do there, too many people that need help right now for me to allow that. So, if I end up spending $200,000, if I spend 10 more dollars on it -- you know what? I get to be here to do the work. So suck it up and defunding the police has to happen, we need to defund the police and put that money into social safety nets."

The border is shifting from a crisis to a national embarrassment

Source: The Hill. August 5, 2021 * By Chad Wolf * Wolf served as acting Homeland Security secretary

Protecting national sovereignty and upholding the rule of law along our borders should not be a controversial issue, especially as we continue facing economic and public health crises. Yet, the Biden administration continues to lead the assault on our law and values. In doing so, the current border security situation is shifting from a manufactured crisis to a national embarrassment.

Week after week, the Biden administration proposes or pursues policies that are only making the crisis at the border more dire. Recent reporting indicates that the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) has released more than 50,000 illegal immigrants into the U.S. without issuing a formal notice to appear.

They are so overwhelmed with the number of aliens crossing the border that they simply do not have the time to issue a court date. Instead, illegal aliens are asked to voluntarily show up at a local DHS/Immigration and Customs Enforcement office.

Thus far, only 13 percent have shown up, which is no surprise. This administration is destroying the rule of law along our southwest border.

We are also hearing from administration officials that they are seriously considering removing Title 42 authority, which would increase the number of illegal immigrants in DHS custody and would likely cause another surge to the border.

But their latest move is even more radical - congressional Democrats, with support from a Biden White House, are looking to insert amnesty for millions of illegal immigrants into a budget bill with little consent from the American people. This is a flagrant act of federal overreach and absolutely the wrong course to take.

Securing the border must be priority No. 1, and effective policies must be deployed. This is exactly the approach we took in 2019-2020 when I was leading DHS, and it worked.

Other parts of a border strategy are rendered ineffective unless the rule of law is enforced. There is little reason to talk about root causes, in-country programs like the Central American Minors Program, and other initiatives if the border is effectively open.

Additionally, widespread amnesty for the millions of illegal immigrants currently in the U.S. makes little sense if we want to have a secure border.

Rewarding bad behavior simply encourages more of it. This is basic logic. Just the mere talk of such an ill-conceived policy is causing an uptick in illegal border apprehension numbers. U.S. Border Patrol in the Rio Grande Valley is reporting "skyrocketing" illegal apprehensions, with more than 20,000 occurring last week alone.

The Biden border strategy (or lack thereof) is vastly unpopular with the American people because they understand basic logic, fairness, and the rule of law.

It is also unpopular with the thousands of law enforcement officers at DHS who are being directed to ignore the law.

Thus far, the Biden White House has threatened to transfer or asked for the resignations from two senior officials at Customs and Border Protection - including the U.S. Border Patrol Chief - because they dared to speak out against or question the illogical decisions being implemented.

These are not political appointees. These are career law enforcement officers who could no longer ignore the reality of the Biden administration's dangerous decisions.

But the illogical actions continue.

This administration continues to implement travel restrictions for non-essential travel along the border.

If you want to cross the border legally at a port of entry, you are denied. If you choose to break the law and enter the country illegally, however, the Biden administration's current policy will allow you to stay in the country.

This administration has it exactly backward - our borders remain closed by travel restrictions that stifle our economy and prevent families from legally reuniting.

On the other hand, the administration is encouraging human trafficking and allowing illegal immigrants from all corners of the world to enter the U.S. without repercussions.

The Biden administration is realizing, albeit too late, that they have taken the wrong approach. Just recently, they have announced several measures, dubbed "Blueprint for a Fair, Orderly, and Humane Immigration System," designed to look like they are getting tough on immigration enforcement.

A few of these measures, such as expedited removal and dedicated court dockets, are actions implemented by previous administrations.

Whether these actions work or not depends on how they are implemented and executed over time, though the Biden administration has been uniquely opaque in its methods and operations.

While I am hopeful for their success for the sake of the American people, this administration's track record leaves significant doubt.

An old Cherokee told his grandson, "My son, there is a battle between two wolves inside us all.

One is Evil. It is anger, jealousy, greed, resentment, inferiority, lies, and ego. The other is joy, peace, love, hope, humility, kindness, empathy, and truth."

The boy thought about it and asked, "Grandfather, which wolf wins?"

The old man quietly replied, "The one you feed."
