Shall We Talk Hypocrisy

Comrade Biden Admits That Socialist Democrats Know The Voting Machines Can Be Manipulated

Even Comrade Biden and several Socialist Democratic political leaders have called for the standardization and increased security of voting machines, like Dominion, plus the use of paper ballots...just take a look back to 2007.

With the corrupt deep state allegedly achieving their goal of replacing President Trump with Comrade Biden, they are now using big tech and leftist media networks to prevent Trump's campaign from pursuing data from the electronic voting machines and demanding signature verifications on physical ballots.

Against Democrats' wishes, a forensic report by Allied Security Operations Group on the vote in Antrim County, Mich., found that "the Dominion Voting System is intentionally and purposefully designed with inherent errors to create systemic fraud and influence election results" and "the results of the Antrim County 2020 election are not certifiable." was released to the public.

While this finding was disputed by Dominion's CEO John Poulos, there are many reports of voter fraud in battleground states, backed up by witness affidavits and statistical analyses.

Now, a viral video is circulating of Joe Biden sharing his concerns about election integrity.

In one video from 2007, Biden was so concerned about election integrity that he called for election reform mandating paper ballots and standardizing voting machines.

Joe Biden believed back then that elections could be stolen with electronic voting machines. But as evidence of voting irregularities in the 2020 election mounts, we're being sold the idea that everything was above board. "We the people voted. Faith in our institutions held," Joe Biden declared after the official voting of the Electoral College. "The integrity of our elections remains intact."

"Which is what people usually mean by election reform. How are you gonna keep it from us being able to be in a position where you can manipulate the machines, manipulate the records? I think we should pass a federal law mandating that the same machines with paper trails be mandatory for every federal election,"

"We can't mandate state elections," Biden continued. "So in a nutshell I think we should be mandating that we have a paper ballot with a standardized machine, standardized requirement."

Just over year and half ago on December 10, 2019, Senators Elizabeth Warren (D-Mass.), Amy Klobuchar (D-Minn.), Ron Wyden (D-Ore.), and Representative Mark Pocan (D-Wis.) expressing concern about the electronic voting machines and sent a letter to three companies expressing their concerns.

In their letters, the lawmakers raise concerns about vulnerabilities and a lack of transparency in the election technology industry and the poor condition of voting machines and other election technology equipment.

They request information about the role private equity investment in these companies have played in creating and perpetuating these conditions.

CALIFORNIA TRIBAL CHAIRPERSONS ASSOCIATION, INC., SUPPORTS SENATE BILL 712, FEE-TO-TRUST TO REGAIN ANCESTRAL LANDS.

MY VIEW by Ernie C. Salgado, Jr.,

Senator, Ben Hueso, California State Senate, 40th District is the primary sponsor of Senate Bill 712, which we have dubbed the "California Tribal Fee to Trust Act."

California Tribal Chairpersons Association, Inc. (CTCA) President Bo Mazzetti said. "I hope we can have Tribal lobbyist and tribes available to call in and provide support."

I do not have call in information but will try and obtain as soon as possible.

I wished we could make this bill stronger and that should be our efforts to do so.

We need to all work together on this and it will hopefully help all Federally Recognized tribes in California get our land back a little easier in the future.

If anyone has any questions please feel free to contact me at any time at (760) 801-4550."

Although Federal Law provides for "Fee to Trust" of ancestral lands and has been used successfully by the California Federally recognized

American Indian Tribal Governments over the past several decades, the cordial relationship between the California Tribes and the State of California was halted by the State's Attorney General, Kamala Harris.

AG Harris disregarded the Federal "Fee to Trust," Statutes and blocking ever Tribal "Fee to Trust" application during her tenure.

All this while the Governor was telling the California Indian Tribes how sorry he was for the historical mistreatment of the American Indians over the past 170-years.

Chairman Mazzetti told the American Indian Reporter.

"The legislation could be stronger, but it does force the Cities, Counties and State Governments to be more accountable and provide proof of a negative impact resulting from the 'Fee to Trust' land transfer."

"The bill also prohibit local governments from adopting or enforcing a resolution or ordinance that would prevent a tribe from a fair evaluation of a fee-to-trust application based on its merits." (See Secretary Haaland page 2)

The Supreme Court is not a political tool

Source: Indian Country Today

Rep. Tom Cole, (R) Tribal member of the Chickasaw Nation, Oklahoma

There is a difference between filling a vacant seat and adding extra justices to politically sway decisions

Earlier this month, Democrats in both the U.S. House of Representatives and the U.S. Senate introduced legislation to add four justices to the bench of the Supreme Court.

Ushering in such a drastic change to one of our nation's most fundamental institutions would represent an outrageous power grab and set a precedent of using our nation's highest court as a partisan political tool.

While true that the Supreme Court has been expanded and shrunk at different points in U.S. history, that has not been the case for some time. In fact, it was 1869 – more than 150 years ago – that lawmakers stopped this practice to ensure the Court would remain an apolitical institution for the American people.

Moreover, the majority of Americans are against expanding the Court since it is seen as a way for Democrats to rubber stamp their progressive policies.

Structurally changing the Supreme Court, as proposed in recent legislation, is something also previously opposed by past and present left-leaning justices.

For example, the late Associate Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg once stated, "Nine seems to be a good number. It's been that way for a long time." In addition, Associate Justice Stephen Breyer, who currently sits on the bench of the Court, recently said in a lecture that institutional changes would lead to severe distrust in the Court and cause it to no longer be viewed as a fair institution by the American people.

In 1983, then-Senator Joe Biden adamantly disapproved of packing the Supreme Court, calling it a "bonehead decision" and "terrible, terrible mistake." Those previous statements made by now-President Biden makes his newly established Presidential Commission on the Supreme Court of the United States, tasked with studying reform of the Court, hypocritical and misguided. Make no mistake, when Democrats talk about reforming the Supreme Court, they mean they are attempting to expand it.

While Democrats may claim that former President Trump "packed" the Court by putting forward a nomination when a vacancy came up, let's be clear. There is a difference between filling a vacant seat and adding extra justices to politically sway decisions.

Moreover, this could trigger a terrible precedent of either expanding and shrinking the Court whenever shifts in power in Congress and the White House occur in the future.

This would inherently erode the checks and balances our Founding Fathers created to ensure that minority parties, but more importantly, the American people are protected from one party gaining too much control. We must keep the nine.

Secretary Haaland Give Bureau of Indian Affairs Regional Directors OK Over "Fee to Trust" Land

Source: The Hill

Deb Haaland the Secretary of the Department of Interior issuing an order to return jurisdiction over the "Fee to Trust" application process to the regional Bureau of Indian Affairs directors.

The will make the process by which Native American tribes can place Fee land into Trust much easier.

Her order reverses the current admorative process that placed these decisions under the jurisdiction of department headquarters.

The decision to decentralize than to centralize is unique for a Socialist Democratic Administration in that the ideology is to centralize the decision making process at the highest level.

"At Interior, we have an obligation to work with Tribes to protect their lands and ensure that each Tribe has a homeland where its citizens can live together and lead safe and fulfilling lives," Haaland said in a statement. "Our actions today will help us meet that obligation and will help empower Tribes to determine how their lands are used - from conservation to economic development projects."

Placing land into trust is the process under which the department holds ownership of land for either a tribe or individual tribe members.

"The department's actions are intended to unwind a bureaucratic knot that was created by the previous administrations," an Interior official told reporters on a call.

The amount of land placed into trust by Interior shrunk to 75,000 acres during Trump's four years in office, from 560,000 acres during former President Obama's two terms.

In a statement following the announcement, House Natural Resources Committee Chair Raul Grijalva (D-Ariz.) praised the decision, saying it "makes the process easier for Tribal communities looking to expand their economies, increase their land base and control their own futures."

"Indian Country needs land-into-trust decisions to be based on genuine consultation," he said. "Tribal communities around the country just want the same transparency and legal equity many of us so often take for granted, and today's steps are a big part of granting those reasonable requests."

However, there was no mention of lifting the ban on "Fee to Trust" for the purpose of expanding or creating a new gaming facility. Most likely not, since the existing gaming tribe would be opposed to it.

Domestic Terrorist? No way! In Nazi Germany it was the Comrade Biden called then Jewish people, but today in America it is the “White People,” just as Hitler called his Brown Shirts “Patriots.”

Currently in America the So-cialist media and political lead-ers jsve divided the people by wealth, race and social status.

In Nazi Germany it was the Jewish people, but today in America it is the “White People” and the “Rich,” that are to blame for all the problems.

The irony and absurdity, is that it is the extremely wealthy that are funding this effort.

Why? The answer is simply because the goal is to trans-form America into a Socialist/Communist Country.

And when the transformation is completed the minorities, poor and opposition will be worse off than they can imag-ine.

Again, why? Because the su-per wealth global elitist will be in control and the final step toward an Oligarchy, One-World-Order will have been attained.

Supreme Court hears Alaska Native corporations case

The U.S. Supreme Court heard oral arguments on Monday, April 19, 2021 from Alaska Native Corporations (ANCs), Alaskan delegation, and tribal organizations who support the funding, as well as the six tribes, five states, and one member of Congress who are against the Alaska Native Corporations receive a portion of the CARES Act's $8 billion tribal allocation in 2020.

The hearing is the culmination of a year-long battle that has divided some in Indian Country and called into question long-standing legal precedents.

The litigation began in April 2020 when six tribes sued then-Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin for including ANCs in the tribal distribution of CARES Act funding.

In June, 2020 U.S. District Judge Amit Mehta ruled that ANCs were eligible to receive their portion of the COVID relief package. On Sept. 25, 2020 the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the decision, stating that Alaska Native village and regional corporations were not eligible to receive the funds.

If the decision stands, the Alaska Native corporations would miss out on roughly $720 million that were intended to help Alaska Native people combat the pandemic, according to the Treasury Department.

"Affirming the decision below would thus leave thousands of Alaska Natives out in the cold with nowhere to turn," reads the opening statement of the ANCs' friend-of-the-court brief.

A statement from the ANCSA Regional Association and the Alaska Native Village Corporation Association agreed.

"We hold strong our belief that Alaska Native people should not be punished for the unique tribal system that Congress established for the state 50 years ago," it states.

On the other side, about a dozen tribes say the relief package should only go to the 574 tribes that have a government-to-government relationship with the United States.

"Federally recognized tribes have undertaken extraordinary efforts to ensure continuity of government operations, maintain essential services and resources, and otherwise provide for the health and welfare of their communities throughout the COVID-19 crisis," said the National Congress of American Indians in its brief to the court.

Public Law 93-638, The Indian Self Determination and Education Act of 1975 clearly defines the Alaska Native Corporations as a tribal entity. It is not clear what statute or baseline will use by Supreme Court justices to define "Tribe" in legal terms.

Secretary Haaland Invokes Biden Era Energy Policies

Interior Secretary Deb Haaland revoked a series of Trump administration orders that promoted fossil fuel development on public lands and waters, and issued a separate directive that prioritizes climate change in agency decisions.

The moves are part of a government-wide effort by the Biden administration to address climate change ahead of a virtual global summit on climate change that President Joe Biden is hosting in April.

"From day one, President Biden was clear that we must take a whole-of-government approach to tackle the climate crisis, strengthen the economy and address environmental justice," Haaland said in a statement. The new orders will "make our communities more resilient to climate change and ... help lead the transition to a clean energy economy," she added.

The orders revoke Trump-era directives that boosted coal, oil and gas leasing on federal lands and promoted what Trump called "energy dominance" in the United States. Haaland also rescinded a Trump administration order intended to increase oil drilling in Alaska's National Petroleum Reserve.

Haaland called the orders by her predecessors, Ryan Zinke and David Bernhardt, "inconsistent with the department's commitment to protect public health; conserve land, water, and wildlife; and elevate science."

EDITORS NOTE: However, the report did not address the thousands of jobs that will be lost, the increase in oil and gas dependency on foreign sources and the escalating cost of gas at the gas stations across American.

With less than 3-months in office the Biden administrations policies have caused an 8-percent increase in the cost of living and is expected to increase with gas to reach $7 per gallon by this summer.

The last statement by the Secretary with regards to "elevate science" is inconsistency with any creditable scientific study that climate change even exist.

The myth of "Global Warming" was invented by Al Gore, with a 10-year dooms day ending over 30-years ago. And a few years ago it was rebranded as "Climate Change." It is now being marketed as the "New Green Deal" at an estimated cost of 97-Trillion Dollars and the loss of millions of job. Guess what? The plant has existed for millions of years without this BS, just saying.

There are men running governments who shouldn't be allowed to play with matches.

Biden Quietly Removes Limits on Murdering of Unborn Babies

The Bottom Line: Socialist/Democrats love regulations and rules in nearly every case except two: voting and the murdering of unborn babies.

Source: Patriot United News, By Anastasia Boushee, April 14, 2021

Contributed by Andrea Marquez, Soboba Indian Reservation, So. CA

With no regard for safety or the life of the unborn child, Joe Biden's administration has ordered a temporary halt to health and safety regulations for abortion drugs. With this order, abortion facilities can now sell and ship these drugs through the mail without ever examining the patient.

According to reporting by Life News, "To protect women, the FDA requires mifepristone to be provided in-person by a medical professional after the woman has a check-up. The drug, one of two taken together to abort unborn babies up to 10 weeks of pregnancy, has been linked to two dozen women's deaths and thousands of serious complications."

Pro-life Americans have been fighting to ban these dangerous drugs for a long time, but the abortion industry keeps winning. These pro-murder organizations want all safety regulations removed, and are pushing the narrative that these drugs are somehow safe and effective. The question is, how can they be both safe and effective?

If they were safe, they wouldn't be effective because they would not kill the baby. If they were effective, they would not be safe because they would kill the baby.

The president of March for Life, Jeanne Mancini, condemned Joe Biden and his actions in comments to Life News.

"With this action, the Biden administration has made it clear that it will prioritize abortion over women's safety," Mancini said. "Allowing unsupervised chemical abortions via telemedicine, without requiring timely access to medical care, will put women in grave danger. "

Data released in 2018 by the FDA shows thousands of adverse events caused by abortion pills, including 768 hospitalizations and 24 deaths since 2000. "Chemical abortions should have more medical oversight not less." Mancini said.

This dangerous abortion drug is currently used in approximately 39 percent of all abortions in the United States, according to a study by the Guttmacher Institute. By removing these safety regulations, Joe Biden is encouraging that number to increase.

Hypocrite, Racist & Mental, Maxine Waters' Remarks Could Incite More Riots, Violence and Help Chauvin with Appeal says Judge

Source:

The often unhinged southern California Representative Maxine Waters joined BLM, Antifa, cancel culture and your everyday thugs, rioter and looters protesting in Minnesota as their mayhem entered a seventh night on Saturday, April 17, 2021 after the death of Daunte Wright.

Waters told the protesters at Brooklyn Center that she will fight for justice on their behalf and urged them to 'to get more confrontational' - just one day after protests descended into violence.

"I am not happy that we have talked about police reform for so long," Waters said. "We're looking for a guilty verdict," she added in regards to the Derek Chauvin trial. "If we don't, we cannot go away."

"We've got to stay on the street and we've got to get more active, we've got to get more confrontational," Waters told reporters when asked what would happen if the Chauvin trial, which is wrapping up this week, ends in acquittal. "We've got to make sure that they know that we mean business."

The Derek Chauvin's judge in the murder trial in the death of George Floyd criticized recent comments by Rep. Maxine Waters, D-Calif., and said her words could be grounds for the defense to appeal a guilty verdict.

Waters, who has long been a lightning rod for criticism from the right, was already facing a torrent of Republican ire for her comments over the weekend urging protesters in Minnesota to "get more confrontational" if Chauvin is not convicted, with several GOP lawmakers calling for Waters' expulsion from Congress.

Chauvin's lawyer asked the judge to declare a mistrial over Waters' comments, arguing that she had prejudiced the jury. Judge Peter Cahill denied the request, but said that Waters' comments were "abhorrent" and that she may have handed the defense a lifeline anyway.

"I'll give you that Congresswoman Waters may have given you something on appeal that may result in this whole trial being overturned," Cahill said as arguments in the case concluded and the jury began deliberations.

While Republicans called for Waters to be punished for her comments, she is unlikely to face punishment because Democrats control Congress.

House Speaker Nancy Pelosi told reporters. "No, I don't think she should apologize," "Maxine talked about 'confrontation' in the manner of the civil rights movement."

House Republican Leader Kevin McCarthy accused Waters of

'By permission of Gary Varvel and Creators Syndicate, Inc.'

garyvarvel.com

"inciting violence" and said. "If the Democratic majority in the House doesn't do anything to censure her, I will bring action this week." "Of course she'll get away with saying that while anyone else would've been thrown in jail," Rick Santella tweeted.

GOP leaders called for Waters to be "immediately removed from Congress" and called for "sanction" to "hold her accountable."

"Maxine Waters is a complete disgrace to the United States and to South L.A.," Collins said on Fox News in an appearance likely to garner even more donations.

Collins called on Congress to remove Waters from office by invoking a clause in the 14th Amendment to the Constitution that disqualifies federal officeholders who have "engaged in insurrection."

Santella was spot on, The House Democrats voted unanimously in supporting her. By doing so they sent a very dangerous message to these thugs that the Congress of the United States of America is in full support of their act of insurrection against America.

The Marxist-Communist is congress have taken over the United States Government. Many have sold out to the mighty dollars

A Video of a Christian Preacher Kicking 'Gestapo' police out of church during Holy Week service goes viral: 'Living in a total takeover of the government'

A video showing a Christian minister telling Canadian police officers to leave his church when they reportedly tried to disrupt a service during Holy Week has gone viral. And since the totalitarian takeover and censorship is farther along in America than in Canada the viewing opportunity of the video in the internet may be short lived.

"Nazis are not welcome here! ... Do not come back, you Nazi psychopaths. Unbelievable sick, evil people. Intimidating people in a church during the Passover! You Gestapo, Nazi, communist fascists! Don't you dare come back here!" Pastor Artur Pawlowski can be heard shouting at the officers, who reportedly did not have a warrant.

"Police came to disrupt Church gathering! Gestapo came again to intimidate the Church parishioners during the Passover Celebration!!! Unbelievable," Pawlowski, who is originally from Poland, said in a caption of the video he posted to his Facebook page.

"Can you imagine those psychopaths? Passover. The holiest Christian festival of the year, and they're coming to intimidate Christians during the holiest festival? Unbelievable. What is wrong with those sick psychopaths. It's beyond me. How dare they," he continued in the video. "Unbelievable, we're living in a total takeover of the government with their thugs, goons, the brown shirts, the Gestapo wannabe dictators," Pawlowski said. "Coming to the church armed with guns and tasers and handcuffs to intimidate during Passover celebration? Well, I guess that's what it is, they want to enslave us all like the Egyptians did. They want to be the pharaohs of today, that's what they're doing. Unbelievable. People, if you don't stand up, wake up, I don't know what will happen tomorrow."

EDITORS NOTE: The shutting down of the churches is systematically under way in the United States of American. The Socialist or Marxist ideology is based on Government dependency as oppose to the belief in God. In fact, Easter Sunday services were cancelled at the White House this year by Comrade Biden.

However, the Socialist propaganda media is using the Georgia voting law requiring a legal identification to vote as a distraction from the war of churches, the southern border fiasco and the Socialist very own voting legislation, H-1 which will allow anyone to vote, especially illegal migrants and the dearly departed.

Gov. Huckabee Mockery of Biden-China Lovefest Enrages Left Wing Nutters

Mike Huckabee, former Arkansas governor sarcastic tweet on social media claiming to 'identify' as Chinese sent the "Left Wing Nutters" into a raging fury.

The tweet was a cynical attempt to draw attention to the current Comrade Biden (Soros) Socialist Administration and Big Tech's boot licking of China.

Huckabee's tweeted. "I've decided to 'identify' as Chinese. Coke will like me, Delta will agree with my 'values' and I'll probably get shoes from Nike & tickets to @MLB games, Ain't America great?"

The Nutters counterattack touch on two ongoing political controversies. First, they flagged the increase in anti-Asian hate crimes in recent months.

The second is that some attributed in part to COVID-19's original discovery in Wuhan, China.

A recent study revealed hate crimes against Asian Americans spiked almost 150% throughout 2020,

His assertion is that identifying as Chinese would endear him to Coke, Delta, and Major League Baseball is an apparent reference to the ongoing controversy surrounding a new voter law in the state of Georgia.

After Gov. Brian Kemp signed legislation imposing rules on voter identification requirements and limiting ballot drop boxes, many corporations with ties to the state, such as Delta and Coca-Cola, issued statements critical of the voting legislation.

Yet, the main stream media make no mention of Comrade Biden's (Soros) Department of Justice refusal to file racial discrimination legal action against many of the Nations colleges and universities for denying admission to Asians based solely on race, even though the evidence is overwhelming.

China's $1.5 billion investment in Hunter Biden and the "Big Guy" looks like a hell of a bet.

San Diego CA: Homeless Americans Evicted From Shelter to House Illegal Immigrant Dozens Infected with COVID-19

Source: Judicial Watch * Contributed by Franklin Motte, Moreno Valley CA

As if the illegal immigrant crisis along the U.S.-Mexico border were not bad enough, homeless Americans have been booted from a temporary shelter in San Diego, California to make room for illegal migrants, many of them infected with COVID-19.

Since the Biden administration rolled out the welcome mat, thousands of illegal aliens have entered the country, most of them minors classified as Unaccompanied Alien Children (UAC).

Now the government is scrambling to meet its legal obligation of caring for them at facilities nationwide operated by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).

In this case, homeless Americans were cleared out of the San Diego Convention Center to accommodate up to 1,450 UAC.

So far 82 of the 743 migrant teenagers at the center have tested positive for COVID-19, according figures cited in a local news report this week.

There are around 16,551—and counting—illegal immigrant minors in HHS and U.S. Border Patrol shelters according to the government. The number could reach 40-50,000 by summer.

The San Diego accommodations are not the only special treatment that they illegal immigrants are receiving. They also get live teachers while the local children whose parents fund the public schools are forced to receive instruction online.

California Congressman Darrell Issa, blasted the idea in a statement that teachers will be sent to the San Diego Convention Center to provide in-person instruction for the illegal immigrants. "For more than a year, parents and students in San Diego County have waited for educators to answer one question: When will our schools reopen with in-person instruction only? And for a year, they've been told to wait. The decision to provide in-person instruction to illegal migrants is outrageous and parents have every right to be angry."

Slavery in America Ended 156-Years Ago

Reparations for Slavery is Wrong

“Descendants are not legally liable for the actions of their ancestors”

By Matt Holloway * TheHollowNet.com

There is absolutely no logic behind the notion that anyone born after February 1, 1865 (The date the 13th Amendment entered law) could be legally liable for reparations related to slavery in the United States.

- If such an individual (born 1/31/1864) were alive today they would be 156 years, 5 months, 14 days old. Allowing for the voting age in 1864 (relaxed to 18 from the previous 21) any individuals born after 1846 were minors and thereby not legally responsible for the action or inaction of elected officials.
- The oldest person alive today in the United States is Hester Ford, who was born August 15, 1905, fittingly for this argument: in Lancaster, South Carolina, and at 115 years old was fully two generations removed from this age group.
- Furthermore, in addition to reparations for slavery itself this farce of a bill states the commission shall investigate and determine the correct reparations for African Americans for events that occurred after the slaves were freed and given citizenship. We’ll take this section point by point:
- 3) The Federal and State laws that discriminated against formerly enslaved Africans and their descendants who were deemed United States citizens from 1868 to the present. As “formerly enslaved Africans and their descendants” had the right to vote at this point they are equally liable for the actions and/or inactions of the state and federal governments at that time. Any voter suppression by individuals at this time have either been adjudicated already or rendered moot by the deaths of all parties involved. Descendants are not legally liable for the actions of their ancestors.
- 4) The other forms of discrimination in the public and private sectors against freed African slaves and their descendants who were deemed United States citizens from 1868 to the present, including redlining, educational funding discrepancies, and predatory financial practices.

Descendants are not legally liable for the actions of their ancestors. The practices of redlining, and predatory financial practices have already been adjudicated, educational funding discrepancies are handled at the ballot box.

5) The lingering negative effects of the institution of slavery and the matters described in paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), (5), and (6) on living African Americans and on society in the United States. Mark J. Perry and Thomas Sowell annihilated this point so we don’t have to, Sowell wrote:

“Nearly a hundred years of the supposed “legacy of slavery” found most black children [78%] being raised in two-parent families in 1960. But thirty years after the liberal welfare state found the great majority of black children being raised by a single parent [66%].

Public housing projects in the first half of the 20th century were clean, safe places, where people slept outside on hot summer nights, when they were too poor to afford air conditioning. That was before admissions standards for public housing projects were lowered or abandoned, in the euphoria of liberal non-judgmental notions. And it was before the toxic message of victimhood was spread by liberals.

We all know what hell holes public housing has become in our times. The same toxic message produced similar social results among lower-income people in England, despite an absence of a “legacy of slavery” there.

If we are to go by evidence of social retrogression, liberals have wreaked more havoc on blacks than the supposed “legacy of slavery” they talk about.”

6) Recommend appropriate ways to educate the American public of the Commission’s findings. We would recommend treating this commission’s findings the same way the Biden-Harris regime treated the 1776 project. That was a joke, the 1776 Project was far more deserving of a commission. Really, this insult of a report should find itself alongside the 1619 project, in the dustbin of history.

Recommend appropriate remedies in consideration of the Commission’s findings on the matters described in paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), (5), and (6). In making such recommendations, the Commission shall address among other issues, the following questions:

There are no appropriate remedies, the blood of some 364,511 Union soldiers who died defeating the Confederacy is more than payment enough from the Government of the United States, similarly the Confederacy and their descendants paid for the sin of fighting to uphold slavery with 260,000 lives. Americas Reparations for the sin of slavery, in the North and South were already paid. IN BLOOD.

Simply put, the only people who could potentially be held liable for a Tort have been dead for approximately 50-60 years.

From any logical, legal perspective any case would be invalid. While members of the government ergo the people who elected them could have theoretically been held legally liable for Tort against former slaves. They’re all dead. The victims are all dead. The issue is dead. To move forward as a society we cannot exact vengeance from dead men.

The practice of slavery was ended with an atonement in blood, the blood of 600 thousand people lost in the American Civil War. Was that price along with fifty years of affirmative action insufficient penance on a national scale for this sin? This is a slap in the face to the honored dead, an insult of the highest order.

Furthermore and a bit closer to home, I like many Americans and very many millennial Americans am descended from families who emigrated to the United States long after the South’s guns fell silent.

This begs the question: if neither I, nor my ancestors took any part in, nor benefitted from the slavery and oppression of the African people in the American South from between 1619 and 1865, than what would possibly entitle any of their descendants to my hard earned money?

The root concept of this brazen redistribution of wealth is fundamentally flawed, patently an insult and a thoroughly disgraceful. It is a thinly veiled attempt at theft on a massive scale.

Representative Jackson-Lee has shown behavior completely unbecoming a United States Congresswoman, and the fact that her travesty of a bill has been proposed yearly since it was first introduced in 1989 with no repercussions is the most damning part of all. Redistribution of Wealth is Theft by Government fiat, and Reparations for slavery are an insult and a farce.

Speaking of Reparations...

Now, since we’re talking about reparations and descendants can’t be held liable for the sins of their forefathers, how about we discuss how much money Black Lives Matter and Antifa will be forced to pay for all the cities, businesses and lives they’ve taken and burned?

Author’s Note: This is Op-Ed is an expansion on my previous 2017 piece on HR40 at that time which can be found on TheHollowNet.com for the record: I am not an attorney nor do I possess any law degrees, this is just common sense.

In a civilized society: a child is not held responsible for the sins of the father, nor should we Americans bear the guilt of our forebears long dead. Such efforts to avenge the past sins of every nation only leaves an empty, silent world bathed in blood. For no civilization is without sin.

“We have to stop listening to these people who tell us that we cannot talk about God, we cannot talk about our faith.”

A Dream Becomes Reality For Muskogee Native Selected In 1st Round Of WNBA Draft

Source: Shayne’s Journal * April 22, 2021

Aaliyah Wilson a Muskogee native went off the board as the number 11 pick in the first round of the 2021 WNBA draft.

Wilson was beaming from ear to ear after being drafted 11th overall by the Seattle Storm then traded to the Indiana Fever. She is stoked to be playing basketball in Indiana.

“To be able to be here and have this opportunity and knowing this is just the beginning, it’s exciting it’s just an amazing feeling,” Wilson said.

It’s been an incredible journey for Wilson who played for both Arkansas and Texas A&M.

While in college she also battled on the court and off with Graves’ disease, an auto-immune disorder. She has also been forced to fight her way back from multiple knee injuries. But her hard work and determination now has her playing at the highest level.

“Continued to be resilient, stuck with the work, keep doing it and keep pushing,” Wilson said. “I had dreams, I had goals and I keep reaching for them and didn’t let them stop me.”

One thing is for sure, Wilson won’t forget where she came from every time she steps foot on the hardwood.

“Just knowing that I’m coming from the 918 and representing my city, my state and being who I am, it’s everything.”
