AMERICAN INDIAN TRIBAL NEWS * ERNIE C. SALGADO JR.,CEO, PUBLISHER/EDITOR

June 2, 2024 Marks 100-Years of U.S. Citizenship for American Indians

MY VIEW: Ernie C. Salgado, Jr.,

To say that the past 100-years have been turbulent for the American Indian tribal people would be a colossal understatement. First, is the fact that although congress pass the “Snyder Act” granting U.S. citizenship to the American Indian people, not much changed for the Tribal people.

“The Indian Citizen Act” as it is also called, had very little positive impact with the governments oversight and jurisdiction of the Nations Indian Reservation, Rancherias, Colonies and Villages. The Bureau of Indian Affairs (, an Agency within the Department of Interior is tasked with the oversite of the American Tribes.

Government boarding schools continued to operate with their slogan “Kill the Indian, save the Man.” Indian children as young as 5 years of age were forced from their homes and placed in boarding schools hundreds of miles away to prevent them from running away and the parent were not told where they were.

The “Simulation Indoctrination” of Indian children to become “Mainstreamed into the dominate society,” was the primary goal, similar to the woke Marxist Communist cult of today.

The children were forbit from speaking their language, wearing long hair and practicing their culture. For breaking these rules they were beaten, deprived of food and not allowed to visit their families. Many never say their parents again. Current investigations and horror story's of widespread sexual abuse as told by numinous survivors. And medical experiment as late as the 1970's have been reported.

Just to be clear, I'm a first generation born American citizen as my father, grandmother and great grandparents were nationalized American citizens on June 2, 1924 as “migrants.” I was born and raised on the Soboba Indian Reservation, located in Southern California.

I am extremely proud to be an American Indian, U.S. citizen and Veteran as were my father and brother Richard as were numerous cousins, uncles and aunts.

During World War One an estimated 95% of the Nations Tribal adult males served in the military. Their gallant service was recognized since they were not American citizens they were not obligated to serve. This was the primary reason for the granting of American citizenship.

However, not all Tribal leaders supported granting of American citizenship for many reasons of which the Many Tribal Leaders opposed “The Indian Citizen Act” for a number of reason but the most prevalent was the fear of loosing their cultural identity. Another reason was that the bill disregarded previous treaties between the Indian Tribes and the United States, specifically the 1784 Treaty of Fort Stanwix, the 1789 Treaty of Fort Harmor, and the 1794 Treaty of Canandaigua. Others were reluctant to trust the government that had taken their land and discriminated so violently against them.

Other groups Tribal Leaders supported American citizenship because of the “guardianship” status they felt the U.S. government should take to protect tribal people. They worried Indians were being taken advantage of by non-indigenous Americans for their land. They advocated that the government had an obligation to supervise and protect Native citizens.

Indian Citizenship Act

The Indian Citizenship Act of 1924 declared: all non citizen Indians born within the territorial limits of the United States be, and they are hereby, declared to be citizens of the United States.

This grant of citizenship applied to about 125,000 of the 300,000 Indian people in the United States, the total population of America was between 106 million and 123 million at that time. The Indian people not included had already become citizens by other means, such as by entering the armed forces, giving up tribal affiliations, and assimilating into mainstream American life.

Citizenship was granted in a piecemeal fashion before the Act, which was the first more inclusive method of granting Native American citizenship.

One of the most notable American Indians that was granted citizenship prior to the 1924 Act was Charles Curtis (January 25, 1860 - February 8, 1936) from Kansas. Curtis served as the Vice President of the United States from 1929 to 1933 under Herbert Hoover.

He had served as the Senate Majority Leader from 1924 to 1929.

A tribal member of the Kaw Nation born in the Kansas Territory, Curtis was the first Native American and first person in a racial minority group to reach either of the highest offices in the federal executive branch.

Even Native Americans who were granted citizenship rights under the 1924 Act may not have had full citizenship and suffrage rights until 1948 because the right to vote was governed by state law. According to a survey by the Department of Interior, seven states still refused to grant Indians voting rights in 1938. Discrepancies between federal and state control provided loopholes in the Act's enforcement.

Times and attitudes were very different in 1924 as many Indians were highly successful farmers and ranchers and the transition into the industrial age was new and challenging. For example, in 1923 International Harvester Farmall tractor marked a major point in the replacement of draft animals (particularly horses) with machines.

Although many tribal people were well educated and spoke the three dominate languages of English, Spanish and their Native language professional occupations were not open to then. The primary curriculum in the Indian boarding schools and day schools on the reservation was centered around simulation, domestic services and trades.

In 1910 several members of Southern California tribes joined forces to form a political organization to challenge the mistreatment of the tribes and Indian people by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The officially chartered of the Mission Indian Federation was in 1920 with tribal member from the 26 Indian Reservations and one Village in Southern California.

The Mission Indian Federation under the 43 year leadership of Adam Castello and the Federation's legal counselor, Jonathan Tibbet became a strong advocate for the Tribal people, challenging the unjust treatment of the Tribal member by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The Federation's influence within the Tribal community became so resilient it was viewed by the Bureau as a threat to their authority.

John Meyers, Ret. U.S. Army Coronel, Tribal member Santa Rosa Band of Cahuilla Indians, The “Snyder Act” or “The Indian Citizen Act” as it is sometimes known was a by-product of World War I. As a surviving member of the first generation born into citizenship because of the act, I suppose I should feel some sort of gratitude. Native Tribal members have served and fought in every conflict on the North American continent, sometimes on both sides of the issue. In modern times our people have served in the military in greater numbers relative to our representative portion in the greater population. While there are many complex legal reasonings for the delay in “granting” citizenship and the attendant suffrage, Indian people have always stood to the first duty of government that being “the defense of the village.”

On April 22, 1921 a federal Grand Jury in Los Angeles, California filed federal indictments against fifty-seven (57) members of the Mission Indian Federation on charges of conspiring to oppress the rights guaranteed by the United States Constitution.

Adam Castello

Additional charges of preaching 'Bolshevistic' doctrines among the Indians and with arousing them to “rebellion” were filed against the Mission Indian Federation's elected leaders. The charges were later dropped against all the defendants but the damage was done.

The irony is that the Constitution of Mission Indian Federation clearly addressed the recognition of the rights of the individual. The rights of the individual will never be honored in any Bolshevistic' doctrines.

The Occupation of Alcatraz (Nov. 20, 1969 - June 11, 1971) was a 19-month long protest when Americans Indians occupied Alcatraz Island. The significant outcome was the awakening of the world to the plight of the American Indian people.

Public Law 93-638 was direct result of Alcatraz by President Nixon which ended the “Indian Termination Policy” and allowed for the first time in 200-years for the American Indian Tribes to manage their own affairs including the education of their children and to contract with the U.S. Government to provide goods and services for their people.

However, many of the Government agencies have stonewall the Tribal Governments for the past 49-years. And, once again the Tribe are forces to courts to make the government agencies to obey the law.

The Supreme Court is one vote away from ending the political and legal existence of the American Indian Tribes in either the new challenge to the Indian Child Welfare Act or Maverick Gaming LLC v United States, a case challenging the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act on the ground of equal protection, stating that tribal status is based on race. Tribal status as a political classification is affirmed by treaties, the United States constitution and several case laws including Morton v Mancari.

One of the first actions all tribes must take to provide protection against an authoritarian tyranny Tribal Government is to adopt the U.S. Constitution. Many tribal members have already been disenrolled and have no legal recourse.

That's right folks, even though we are U.S. citizens. Many American Indians have NO CONSTITUTIONAL PROTECTION against any action by their Tribal Council unless they formally adopt the U.S. Constitution.

The fight for survival continues for the American Indian people. And if the challenges to the legal status as sovereign Nations isn't enough we must be vigilant to the Communist brainwashing of our children in the K-12 public schools and colleges.

The bastardization of our culture, traditions and values by our own people is unforgivable. First and foremost; We are not Victims, we're Survivors, we're not pronouns, Abortion & Blood Quantum's is Genocide and God is real.

MY VIEW by Ernie C. Salgado Jr.

“YOU AUTHORIZED LETHAL FORCE?!”

MY VIEW by Ernie C. Salgado, Jr.

Regardless of all the GOP Senators objections over U.S. Attorney General, Merrick Garland for authorizing the use of “Lethal Force” at the Mar-A-Lago raid, his message to the American people is unreasoningly clear: “We will do whatever is necessary, including the murder of anyone to maintain our power.” One doesn't need to look beyond the current weaponization of the judicial system against President Trump to witness the illegal abuse of power.

The Democratic Party does not exist as it once did. President Reagan made that clear over 50-years ago. Garland has made it clearer that the Communist, Woke, Marxist or Globalist are all one in the same and they are not willing to relinquish the control of America they have gained.

The propaganda machine AKA the main stream media and social media bombard the Nation 24.7.365 that Trump is the second coming of Hitler while Comrade Biden drives the Nation into bankruptcy with out of control spending, putting the internal security at risk with his open border policies allow over 11 million unvetted migrants to roam the streets of American and the DOJ, FBI, IRS and all the other acronyms to prey on the American people at will. In 1934 Germany they were called the Gestapo. One great example of Garland's Gestapo tactics is when he labled the parents “Domestic Terrorist” because they objected to the teaching of the “critical race theory.” Before he was forced he had the FBI investigate the parents and was preparing to prosecute them. However, he has continued to prosecute anyone that protest against abortion. I forgot to mention that in addition to his Marxist ideology, his son-in-law is the national distributor of the “critical race theory curriculum.”

The supreme court has ruled, as the Constitution states, that Biden (as the Administrative Branch of Government) has no authority to spend money without the approval of congress but as most dictators, he total ignores them by spending over $167 billion on student loan forgiveness to buy votes. Yet, the main stream media message is that Trump is the would be dictator.

They even has the gall to tell the American people that they never has it so good and the economy is booming as they struggle to feed their families all because of the restrictive policies.

To gain a better understanding of the American Democratic Communist Party's political strategy on how they are transforming America to a Communist Government.

California to increase Gas Taxes by 50 cents per gallon.

The California Air Resources Board's Low Carbon Fuel Standard 2023 amendments impact assessment indicated that drivers would experience this rise over the next two years

Due to a new emissions reduction program, gas prices in California are predicted to increase by 50 cents (40p) per gallon.

The forecast suggests a rise of 47 cents per gallon in 2025 and 52 cents in 2026, not accounting for the 58 cents per gallon existing gas tax in the state.

MY VIEW by Ernie C. Salgado Jr.

Protecting the quality of the air is vital to our health, I get it and support it. I remember the good old days when the air was so thick it was hard to see through no less breath.

That said, I for one do not believe for one second that this proposed tax increase has anything to do with the quality of air. We're talking billions of dollars. The propose tax increase is 172.4 percent over the next two year timeframe. Read #3 DEBT in the Alinsky 8-Steps.

Saul Alinsky's Doctrine: 8 Steps to Topple a Nation

- 1) Healthcare — Control healthcare and you control the people
- 2) Poverty — Increase the Poverty level as high as possible, poor people are easier to control and will not fight back if you are providing everything for them to live.
- 3) Debt — Increase the debt to an unsustainable level. That way you are able to increase taxes, and this will produce more poverty.
- 4) Gun Control — Remove the ability to defend themselves from the Government. That way you are able to create a police state.
- 5) Welfare — Take control of every aspect of their lives (Food, Housing, and Income).
- 6) Education — Take control of what people read and listen to — take control of what children learn in school.
- 7) Religion — Remove the belief in the God from the Government and schools.
- 8) Class Warfare — Divide the people into the wealthy and the poor. This will cause more discontent and it will be easier to take (Tax) the wealthy with the support of the poor.

A Blessing to the Lakota people

A white Buffalo has been born 4/25/24 in Kansas. For those who don't know the prophecy of the White Buffalo Woman, it is the most significant prophecy of the Lakota people, others like Comanche and Navajo also see it as a sign of things changing in the world and better times coming. Even the National Bison Association says that it is indeed a rare event, about 1 in ten million chance.

A symbol of Hope, and honoring that which is sacred, this is a reminder to Pray and remember your relationship with the Creator, just as the White Buffalo Woman taught the Lakota people to pray with the 7 sacred ceremonies over 19 generations ago. And if the prophecy is true, many major changes this year will lead us to a better relationship with the Earth, with each other and with the Great Spirit in the sky!!

On May 13, 2024, the California Tribal College Board of Regents voted Dr. Juliet Maestas to serve as the next President of the California Tribal College. Dr. Maestas is a member of the Hoopa Valley Tribe and a descendant of the Yurok Tribe. She received her Education Doctorate from California State University Sacramento. Her research includes Tribal Culture Endurance and Postsecondary Aspirations among Rural reservation California Native American high school students. She holds a Masters in higher education leadership from California State University Sacramento and a bachelor's degree in Native American studies from the University of California Davis. Congratulations and Welcome Dr. Maestas!

Over a dozen homes on the Navajo Nation now have electricity after Salt River Project crews helped connect them to power lines.

“The absence of roads, dust carried by the winds, and the adjustment to high altitude all contribute to the complex conditions,” Alex Apodaca, a lineman at SRP, said in the release.

MY VIEW: Ernie Salgado. For many America Indians living on Reservations in America the “Dream is having domestic water, electricity & housing.” Government run health care lacks adequate funding and school are substandard at best.

And if this isn’t enough to shake your head in disbelief and discuss, the supreme court recently ruled that a 186 year old treaty did not provide for an adequate domestic water system for the Navajo people, because the court didn’t view “Drinking water” as a basic need.

On June 2, 1924, the American Indian people were granted American citizenship. As you read this, you might think we, the Tribal folks would be celebrate 100 years as American citizens. However, although a great majority are proud of our citizenship its been a rocky road.

We can thank President Nixon for ending the “Indian Termination Policy & allowing the Tribes self-Governance.” President Reagan for supporting Indian Gaming, the 184 Home Loan Program and Tribal Rights. And, President Trump for allowing American Indian Veterans to use the Veterans Home Loan program on the Reservations and approving tribal oil, gas and coal development.

THE U.S. DEFAULT

The United States of America, the financial fortress of the world, is crashing and burning thanks to President Joe Biden.

The U.S. is burdened by a colossal national debt that exceeds $33 TRILLION. If and when we default on this debt, a financial tsunami will be triggered, drowning economies worldwide in its wake.

The U.S. dollar, which holds the throne as the world's reserve currency, could plunge into an abyss as countries scramble to abandon it. This would trigger an inflationary wildfire, eroding the purchasing power of every American and leaving us in a state of economic devastation.

Simply said, Biden has waged war on retirees who have worked their whole lives for their retirement.

The economic agenda of President Biden, champions an explosive increase in government spending. While this might offer a fleeting glimmer of economic vitality, the long-term effects are akin to a ticking time bomb. The unprecedented spending could fuel hyperinflation and pile on an even greater debt mountain for our children to inherit.

Whether the U.S. defaults on its debt or continues on its current path of fiscal insanity, the prospects are bleak.

I cannot stress this enough: Those who continue to turn a blind eye will suffer. As JP Morgan CEO Jamie Dimon said, there is virtually no chance of a soft landing at this point.

“The Value of College vs Vocational School is With the Individual & Job Market”

Everyone has a talent; everyone has a special interest.

The key in nurturing youth is helping them finding what lies deep within and then actualizing it.

Human beans are just like any other plant; they all grow differently given environment and place in time.

Some know at seven what they want to be when they grow up. Others take longer; some never find out.

And to be truthful, in this day and age, the world in which we start our education journey is vastly different by the time the basic school experience is finished.

No longer are centuries characterized; it is now decades.

Even though we are in “The Age of Information”, there is a different world in 2024 than there was in 2000.

Afraid that the new information/internet would crash with YK2, we now debate AI.

While we were tethered to bulky computers, heavy laptops and cumbersome cell phones in 2000, a tiny wrist watch combines most formerly disparate functions, including taking one’s vital signs, and is with you all the time.

I am still amazed that we went to the moon with LESS technology in NASA’s system than is in my flip-phone today.

And yet our world demands that physical construction, maintenance and operation of many of the infrastructures we take for granted is sustainable and runs efficiently. Who is going to do this?

Here's to the kids
that aren't sporting University shirts in their parent's graduation posts.

Here's to the kids
strapping on work boots, donning scrubs,
slipping into uniform,
and committing to careers
soon after walking the stage.

Here's to the kids
taking a different path toward their version of higher education
@raiseherwild

And here's to letting them know
We're just as proud.
and their work is just as honorable.

To the graduates pursuing the trades...

Here's to you!

A home architect may design living units, but it still takes those with day-to-day skills of painting, decorating, furnishing, and cleaning to make a home a home.

While a lab based nutritionist performs a variety of important research questions on the importance or danger of different foods, it still takes those with the artistry of presentation, an appreciation of flavor, and the need to make diners happy to make family meals, favorite restaurants and bulk food preparation reality to consumers.

So yes, not everyone needs a college education and many that attend college will need a “street” education. The real key is instilling a value that embraces life-long learning.

There are so many ways to learn today. Starting with parents, extended family, and community members, one can learn a lot by conversations with these people, from philosophical views of the world to actual daily applied skills.

U-tube and similar tutorials instruct on how to do this and that. Time and patience, however, may make hiring someone with a specific skill a stressless experience. The next door neighbor who is a brain surgeon may be fascinating story teller, but I still want a mechanic to put in a new battery or other car part.

So yes! to each grad who pursues a learning goal, skill development and the opportunity to share such with their extended community. Here’s to a community that embraces every individual, valuing the contribution they can make and honoring that individual’ knowledge.

"Spaving" - spending more to save - is an old "trap" with a new name hitting grocery stores, retailers and even online gambling.

Though there are times "spaving" is worthwhile, one personal finance expert outlined how consumers can avoid becoming the "victim" of the marketing ploy.

They're all just different marketing ploys to get consumers to buy more, and in certain instances that works great," Kuderna said. "If we're using coupons to get what we need, and we also got a bargain at the same time, then certainly it's a win-win. But as we see so many times... it's not."

A construction crew working on a bridge in Alaska's Denali National Park was ordered to remove their American flag from their equipment. The park official said it "detracted" from the park experience.

The crew working on a 475-foot-long bridge in Alaska's Denali National Park was recently told that they could no longer fly the American flag from their trucks or heavy equipment, which are being used in the $207 million Federal Highway Administration project.

According to the contractor, Denali National Park Superintendent Brooke Merrell contacted the man overseeing the federal highways project, claiming there had been complaints about the U.S. flags, and notifying him that bridge workers must stop flying the stars and strips from their vehicles because it detracts from the "park experience."

How does someone this ridiculous make it to superintendent at a US National Park?

FROM THE DESK OF

SENATOR JOHN KENNEDY

Ernie @ American Indian Reporter- It's time to take back the Senate from Chuck Schumer's grip, and we're gonna do it with Bernie Moreno in Ohio. He's a Republican firecracker with a heart of gold and a passion for this country like you wouldn't believe.

Now, let me tell ya about his opponent, Sherrod Brown. This fella has held elected office since bell-bottoms were cool. He's been a rubber stamp for Biden's disastrous agenda and is about as sharp as a marble.

But here's the real kicker - he's been raking in MILLIONS of dollars courting Hollywood elites and billionaire bigwigs to stay in power, and it's working.

But enough of me blabbering on,

Meet Bernie Moreno:

Bernie Moreno fights for the American Dream because he's lived it. Bernie was born in Bogota, Colombia. At age five, his American Dream began when he moved to the United States with his family. Bernie became an American citizen at age 18.

Through his relentless work ethic and untamable entrepreneurial spirit, he turned the first car dealership that he purchased in 2005 into one of the largest dealership groups in America.

In 2016, Bernie recognized the value and transformational potential of blockchain technology, before it received mainstream attention, and moved much of his volunteer time and investment dollars into the space. In 2018 he co-founded ChampTitles, which grew to be quite successful as Bernie served as Chairman of the Board.

After a long, successful career, Bernie sold most of his business to begin focusing on his calling: protecting the American dream for another generation.

Solving our country's problems requires common sense. In Washington, Bernie will fight to shrink government, protect our freedoms, stop the Chinese Communist party from taking our data and land, and always put America First.

Ohioans are done with politicians who talk a big game and do nothing. Bernie wants to go to D.C. to get work done - just like he always has.

Six other pro-life protesters sentenced to prison with Lauren Handy

Four pro-life protesters convicted of blocking the door to an abortion facility received their sentences on Wednesday. Two others received their sentences on Tuesday, along with pro-life protester Lauren Handy. The Freedom of Access to Clinic Entrances Act, or FACE Act, makes it illegal to block the entrance to medical buildings, including abortion facilities.

Lauren Handy received the longest sentence, getting 57 months in prison, or nearly 5 years. Two other defendants, Paulette Harlow and Heather Idoni, are scheduled for sentencing later this month.

Idoni also faces another sentencing in July on a separate matter. Another defendant, Jay Smith, received a sentence in May of last year after pleading guilty to violating the FACE Act.

What did the Justice Department have to say about this? The Justice Department accused the defendants of violating others' civil rights and alleged that they violently blocked the clinic entrance. Meanwhile, the Thomas More Society, representing Handy, described the protesters as peaceful. The Thomas More Society plans to appeal the conviction and sentence of at least Handy and challenge the constitutionality of the FACE Act.

Dig deeper: Listen to Leah Savas' report on The World and Everything in It podcast about Idoni's conviction and how it has affected her hometown community in Michigan.

Who are the defendants? According to the Justice Department:

- John Hinshaw received a sentence of 21 months in prison on Tuesday.
- William Goodman received a sentence of 27 months in prison on Tuesday.
- Jonathan Darnel received a sentence of 34 months in prison on Wednesday.
- Herb Geraghty received a sentence of 27 months in prison on Wednesday.
- Jean Marshall received a sentence of 24 months in prison on Wednesday.
- Joan Bell received a sentence of 27 months in prison on Wednesday.

BIDEN ADMIN ANNOUNCES CANCELLATION OF $7.7B IN STUDENTS LOAN, INTERNET CALLS IT 'STEALING FROM TAXPAYERS'

Read More @ Meaww

WASHINGTON, DC: President Joe Biden announced that his administration had approved the cancellation of an additional $7.7 billion of student loan for 160,500 borrowers on Wednesday, May 22. (2024)

According to CBS News, this brings the total amount of student loan debt forgiven by the Biden administration to $167 billion, affecting 4.75 million people. That comes down to about 1 in 10 student loan borrowers, stated the Department of Education.

The move is reportedly part of the President's ongoing efforts to provide student debt relief after the US Supreme Court had blocked his plan for broad-based college loan forgiveness in 2023.

MY VIEW: Ernie C. Salgado, Jr.,

'How is this legal? The Constitution is clear as it states that only Congress can authorize expenditure and in 2022 the Supreme Court ruled that he was not authorized to spend the money on his "Student Loan Forgiveness or Buy Votes Scam."

Have we already reached the transformation of America to that of a Globalist Elitist (Woke) Nation with Biden as the Supreme Dictator? Zero accountability.

The current cover ups from his showers with his daughter to his "Smartest person he knows, dopey son, Hunter," to the $30 million Chinese donation to Penn State for the creation of his library where hundreds of classified documents were stored in clear violation of the Espionage Act to the open border including the 30,000 illegals his administration is flying into the Country every month.

On November 5, 2024 we will know beyond any shadow of any doubt if America has survived the Marxist takeover and a free Country or not.

Although the poll show Trump leading by 15 points they don't take into consideration the 11-million illegal migrants that were already here when Biden took office, the 10-million "New Comers," which should reach 12-million by October and the 25-million people here legally on work permits, visa and green cards. An estimated total 45 million non-citizens of which 10 to 15 percent will be voting. That folks is 4.5 to 6.75-million people added to the 4.75 million freshly purchased "Student Loan Pay Off Recipients," is a hefty 9.25 to 11.5 million shadow votes. And let not forget the voting machines which could cause serious legal problem for any one questioning there integrity.

I will never believe that Biden got 80-million American citizens votes. However, the final vote count was 80-million in the Marxist favor.

A major concern that I'm sure is shared by many others, is that it could happen again.

The judicial system has been politically corrupted to a one party government. Trump has been prevented from campaigning by the Marxist on false charges

On May 23, 2024 President Trump held a rally in the heart of the Bronx, New York with an estimated 15 thousand people attending, In 1980 Reagan was the first Republican to visit the Bronx.

The IRS sent my Tax Return back! AGAIN!!! I guess it was because of my response to the question : "List all dependents" I replied -"12 million illegal immigrants; "3 million crack heads; "42 million unemployable people on food stamps, "2 million people in over 243 prisons and 535 fools in the U.S. House and Senate." Apparently, this was NOT an acceptable answer.
