Liberty is meaningless where the right to utter one's thoughts and opinions has ceased to exist. That, of all rights, is the dread of tyrants. It is the right which they first of all strike down. They know its power.

Harris makes pitch to Black churches after telling protesters praising Jesus, 'You're at the wrong rally'

Harris' appearances in the swing state of Georgia come days after she told two pro-life student protesters that they were "at the wrong rally" when they yelled, "Jesus is Lord," and, "Christ is King," during a campaign stop in Wisconsin last week.

By contrast, Trump's running mate Sen. JD Vance, R-Ohio, repeated, "Jesus is King" when someone shouted the phrase at his rally in Wisconsin over the weekend, telling the crowd how he believes "there is something really bizarre with Harris' anti-Christian rhetoric and anti-Christian approach to public policy."

Harris also skipped the Al Smith dinner, a Catholic charity event in New York City and a traditional campaign stop for presidential nominees, instead sending a poorly-received video message last week.

Vice President Kamala Harris doesn't care. That is the only way to read her claim that Christopher Columbus's discoveries, and the European settlement that followed them, were "shameful."

Now don't get me wrong – Columbus was a flawed human being. In order to retain royal sponsorship, he lied about what he had found in the Caribbean, claiming that there were gold mines at hand. He made the natives pay him tribute and sent some to Spain as slaves – to the indignation of Queen Isabella, who regarded them as free Spanish subjects.

Harris is so steeped in the politics of grievance that she sides automatically with the designated victims — in this case, the Indigenous people — almost regardless of circumstance. But the implication of what she and the other anti-Columbus activists argue is that the entire American project is illegitimate, that stamping out human sacrifices, spreading literacy, doubling life expectancy, establishing equality before the law, including for women, inventing vaccines and iPads and spacecraft — that all these things are negated because they were built on the extinction of a stone age civilization.

In the great tradition of backdating current fads, Kamala seems to have taken the extreme pro-mask position of California liberals and used it to condemn the conquistadores. Though, naturally, not the Chinese, who genuinely do have a case to answer. America, it seems, must always be in the wrong.

MY VIEW Ernie C. Salgado, Jr.,
The article is informative, accurate and authentic. The lead sentence in the second paragraph “...Kamala Harris doesn’t care,” is absolutely spot-on.

A great example of her hypocrisy in using Columbus to condemn America as if she cared about the American Indian people. As Attorney General of California she refused to enforce the Gaming Laws & failed to negotiate the Tribal Compacts "In Good Faith."

Almost half of the Gaming Tribes
Have transferred to Federal oversight, costing the State billions in lost revenue.

She also claims to be supportive of Black people yet, while Attorney General in CA she sent over 1,000 Black's to prison for long term sentences for petty crimes that were over turned by the higher courts because she falsified and with-held evidence that would have proved their innocence & instead of disbarment she was appointed as the U.S. Senator for CA.

“...Kamala Harris doesn’t care.”

President Joe Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris have a casual relationship with the truth. They told us that they aren't trying to ban gas stoves, that our president's abilities aren't in decline, and that the border isn't open. They called these conspiracy theories. It appears we are going to have to get some new conspiracy theories because all the old ones turned out to be true.

Monday (October 14, 2024) marks the fourth anniversary of the biggest lie the Biden-Harris administration told: that Mr. Hunter Biden's laptop was not real.

Three weeks before the 2020 election, the New York Post published its first article on the contents of Mr. Biden's laptop. The report featured an email in which one of Mr. Biden's Hbusiness

It won't be any better if Vice President Harris wins the election. Her running mate, Minnesota Gov. Tim Walz, continues to say, "There's no guarantee to free speech on misinformation or hate speech, and especially around our democracy." But who gets to decide what's misinformation or hate speech?

partners mentioned a meeting with President Biden. President Biden had denied meeting with Hunter Biden's business associates while on the campaign trail. Photographs later proved that President Biden had met with one of Hunter Biden's business partners. In fact, everything on his laptop was authentic—and the FBI, members of the Biden-Harris campaign team and Hunter Biden himself knew it all along. Instead of squarely addressing the content of the laptop and telling the American people the truth, the Biden-Harris campaign developed an elaborate scheme to mislead voters just three weeks before the presidential election by pretending the laptop was Russian disinformation.

Before the New York Post had even published its reporting, the FBI began to pressure Twitter and Facebook to suppress the story. Facebook restricted posts that linked to the story to ensure fewer people saw the content.

Twitter completely banned links to the report and shut down the New York Post's Twitter account entirely. The Post's account remained censored for 16 days.

Today, the media, FBI, CIA, and even some in the Biden-Harris administration have finally admitted that the laptop is real. The FBI even used the laptop to prosecute Hunter Biden's gun charge conviction.

This conspiracy was never just about the laptop, though. It was about the Biden-Harris administration's decision to use its power to shut down the New York Post's social media, censor the American people who wished to discuss the report online, and deny voters access to the truth before the 2020 election.

‘Deeply Upsetting’: Compare Inflation Under Biden (20+%) vs Trump (6%)

Knewz.com is reporting that the Biden administration has recently come under scrutiny for an increase in inflation across America over the past several years. As reported by Forbes, inflation "has been far worse during the Biden administration" compared to former President Donald Trump.

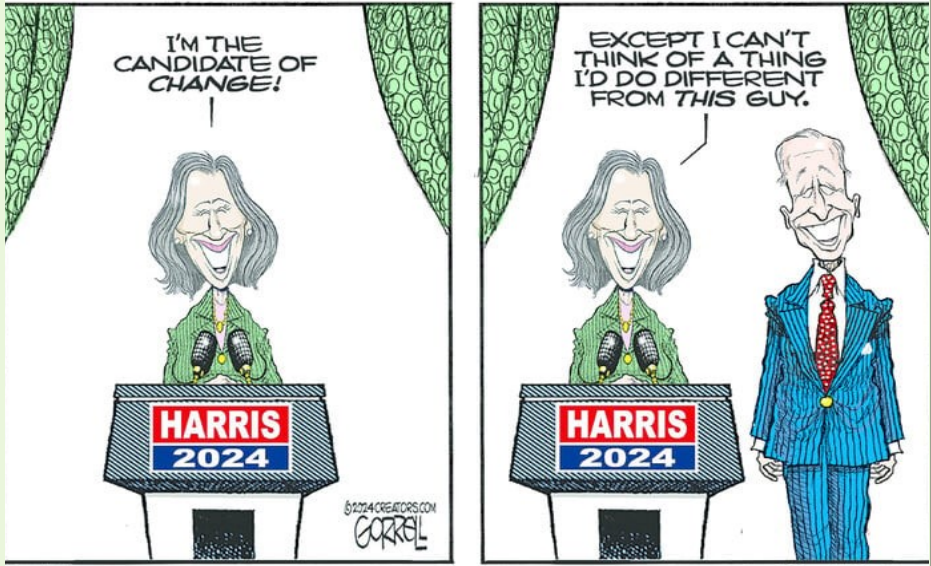

Inflation was up 6% under Trump's first 42 months compared to over 20% for Biden. The Biden administration has blamed the COVID-19 pandemic and the Russia-Ukraine war.

"Inflation has been one of the most brutal drivers of the pressure being felt by everyday consumers in recent years. Almost nobody can keep up with the cumulative rise in prices," Alliance for Consumers executive director O.H. Skinner said.

THE PRICES
"It's deeply upsetting to many people when headlines focus on individual inflation prints or annual inflation numbers and don't recognize that the prices staring at consumers from the store shelves are shocking because the inflation that has cumulatively built up has reshaped the shopping experience in a brutal way," Skinner said.

MANY EXPERTS
Many experts attribute the high inflation to excessive government spending, with the national debt rising sharply during Biden's presidency.

DECLINING REAL WAGES
"Inflation has increased by 21% under the Biden-Harris administration, resulting in declining real wages and a cost of living crisis for ordinary Americans," Jobs Creator Network president Alfredo Gortiz said. "Only by electing conservatives who believe in a sound dollar, economic growth, and deficit reduction can we finally make America affordable again." Compared to Biden Voter sentiment has reflected the economic strain, as polls have shown greater trust in Donald Trump on inflation-related issues compared to Biden.

John Kinsel Sr.,: One of the last Navajo Code Talkers from World War II dies at 107

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — John Kinsel Sr., one of the last remaining Navajo Code Talkers who transmitted messages during World War II based on the tribe's native language, has died. He was 107.

Navajo Nation officials in Window Rock announced Kinsel's death on Saturday (Oct. 19, 2024).

Tribal President Buu Nygren has ordered all flags on the reservation to be flown at half-staff until Oct. 27 at sunset to honor Kinsel.

"Mr. Kinsel was a Marine who bravely and selflessly fought for all of us in the most terrifying circumstances with the greatest responsibility as a Navajo Code Talker," Nygren said in a statement Sunday.

With Kinsel's death, only two Navajo Code Talkers are still alive: Former Navajo Chairman Peter MacDonald and Thomas H. Begay.

Hundreds of Navajos were recruited by the Marines to serve as Code Talkers during the war, transmitting messages based on their then-unwritten native language.

They confounded Japanese military cryptologists during World War II and participated in all assaults the Marines led in the Pacific from 1942 to 1945, including at Guadalcanal, Tarawa, Peleliu and Iwo Jima.

The Code Talkers sent thousands of messages without error on Japanese troop movements, battlefield tactics and other communications crucial to the war's ultimate outcome.

Kinsel was born in Cove, Arizona, and lived in the Navajo community of Lukachukai.

He enlisted in the Marines in 1942 and became an elite Code Talker, serving with the 9th Marine Regiment and the 3rd Marine Division during the Battle of Iwo Jima.

President Ronald Reagan established Navajo Code Talkers Day in 1982 and the Aug. 14 holiday honors all the tribes associated with the war effort.

Christians swarm Washington to pray for America to turn to God — by electing Trump Tens of thousands of evangelical Christians gathered on the National Mall in Washington, D.C., on Saturday to pray for America’s atonement and for Donald Trump’s return to the White House.

Organizers of the “A Million Women” event billed the gathering — and next month’s presidential election — as “a last stand moment” to save the nation from forces of darkness. For hours, the gathered masses sang worship songs, waved flags symbolizing their belief that America was founded as an explicitly Christian nation and prayed aloud for Jesus to intercede on behalf of Trump in November.

“If we don’t stand now,” said Grace Lin, who traveled from Los Angeles for the rally and came wearing a red “Make America Great Again” hat, “then the enemy will take over our country. If that happens, that’s the end.”

“Listen to the cries of your people,” Engle shouted Saturday as thousands of followers lifted their hands to the sky. “Save us God!”

From a stage overlooking the Washington Monument, Engle and other speakers warned of a multitude of threats they say are facing America: crime, religious persecution, abortion and the growing acceptance of LGBTQ people.

He worries about what will happen if Trump loses, but he said he has faith that Satan will be defeated even if Harris and the Democrats prevail.

“If that happens, it’s not going to be a political solution,” Heilman said. “God will provide other opportunities to take the country back that will be more surreptitious, or underground.”

One way or another, he said, “righteousness will prevail.”

And Given That I Might Be Spot On in My Prophecy on The Transition of America To A Marxist Nation: There May Not Be Any Indian Reservation to Return to, Since The Tribal Relationship is Political With the United States Government Which May No Longer Exist As a Free Country as we know it.

Comrade Kamala Harris Was Appointed As U.S. Senator But, Understandable Since California Is A Train Wreck in Progress. Vice President Harris & Buffoon Biden adds credibility to my "Election Fraud Theory."

And, what's even more Insane is The Main Stream Media and the Marxist Demo Party Want The American People to Believe She is Fit to Be the Leader of the Free World.

But, Since The Voting Machine's Are Owned & Operated By Woke Activists & China. We are Forbidden From Questioning Their Integrity & Threatened With Financial Ruin, As We Witnessed The Beat Down of Those That Questioned The 80 MILLION VOTES!!

A Vote For Kamala Harris is a Vote for Marxist, Racism & the WOKE Diversity, Equality & Inclusion Stupidity. It's a Vote to End Free Speech, The 2nd Amendment, Due Process & Freedom of Religion. And Freedom as We Know it.

Public Education Will Expand Its Focus on Gender Identity, LGBTQ & Social Justice. American Literacy, Math Skills & Critical Think-

Re-Education Centers will be Introduced As Mental Health Care Facility's, for those that may comply and prisons or death for those that refuse the new Rule. The Children of Those Receiving Treatment Will Be Housed & Schooled in These type of facilities As Well, but not with their parents.

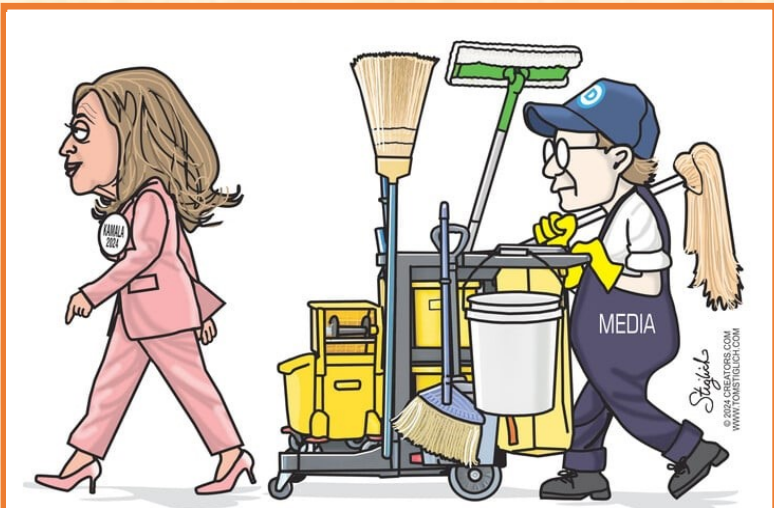

Far fetched You say, But Many Citizens are Not Aware That State Laws Already Exist That Allow For The Removal of Your Children From Your Custody If The State Believes You To Be Unfit. The State Decides Your Fitness and Under a woke Regium Due Process Will Be Something From the Past as well as The Constitution and Elections.

But first, they need to take away our GUNS so we can't fight back.

Biden-Harris prioritize illegal immigrants over disaster preparedness: Tulsi Gabbard

Tulsi Gabbard: This is another example of Harris 'lying to the American people'

Former Rep. Tulsi Gabbard accused President Joe Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris of enacting "American people come last policies" in funding illegal immigrants while citizens are suffering as a result of Hurricane Helene.

Gabbard referred to FEMA's allocation of $640 million this year toward its Shelter and Services Program that has helped migrants find food and housing, which is separate from his disaster preparedness funding. The agency has some $20 million in disaster funding, but according to Homeland Security Secretary Alejandro Mayorkas, it does not have the funds to last through hurricane season, which is slated to end Nov. 30.

"There's such a huge laundry list of the needs that they have. You look at power. So many of these communities are still without power. There are many small towns with hundreds or maybe a thousand people who live in these towns — as you're seeing here in these images — They have yet to be able to get the power they need to be able to get access to water and water pumps and wells," Gabbard said. "This is just another example, unfortunately, of Vice President Harris and President Joe Biden's 'the American people come last' policies, and we're feeling it firsthand."

Over 200 people are dead, and more than 2,000 are reported missing since Hurricane Helene touched ground in Florida and spread to Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Kentucky. Hurricane Milton is following on its heels.

"We can't say that this [is] incompetence because incompetence implies that you do care and you've made your best effort, but you have failed. [The Biden Administration] made very clear their priorities all along and, unfortunately, it's the American people and our fellow Americans who are in the most dire need in this moment of disaster who are feeling the consequences of that," Gabbard said. "They've created these open borders, they've provided our taxpayer dollars."

‘Harassed And Sued’: Turley Slams Biden-Harris Admin After Court Blocks State’s Effort To Clean Voter Rolls

BREAKING NEWS

George Washington University law professor Jonathan Turley criticized the Department of Justice Friday after a federal judge ordered Virginia to reinstate hundreds of non-citizens to the voter rolls. A federal judge ordered Virginia to halt its effort to remove non-citizens Friday, granting an injunction requested by the Justice Department in a suit filed Oct. 12. Turley said the DOJ had previously approved the law’s use in the past under Democratic governors.

“A new poll just came out that showed that over 80% of American citizens support voter ID and citizenship proof for voting. Over 80%,” Turley continued. “I mean, how many issues in today’s politics can you name where there is over 80% of agreement?”

“What the governor is saying is said. “This is an automated system look, this is information supplied by that kicks over and says there is an the voter. It’s an automatic system. anomaly here, a conflict, this person Keep in mind, Virginia doesn’t has identified themselves as a non-know who these people are gonna citizen. Many may have done it in-vote for. It’s not like there’s an ef- correctly or there might be an error fort to target one group,” Turley and why they have these belts and suspenders, but part of the problem the states have here is that they feel like they’ve been harassed and sued by the Biden Administration at every turn over voter ID and other laws.” “A new poll just came out that showed that over 80% of American citizens support voter ID and citizenship proof for voting. Over 80%,” Turley continued. “I mean, how many issues in today’s politics can you name where there is over 80% of agreement?”

Virginia is illegally striking voters off the rolls, DOJ claims in new lawsuit

Question: When did Congress pass a law allowing illegal migrants to vote?

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) – The U.S. Department of Justice filed a lawsuit against Virginia election officials Friday (Oct. 11, 2024) that accuses the state of striking names from voter rolls in violation of federal election law. The lawsuit filed Friday in U.S. District Court in Alexandria says that an executive order issued in August by Republican

Gov. Glenn Youngkin requiring daily updates to voter lists to remove ineligible voters violates federal law. The National Voter Registration Act requires a 90-day “quiet period” ahead of elections for the maintenance of voter rolls. A similar lawsuit was filed earlier this week by a coalition of immigrant-rights groups and the League of Women Voters. In a statement on Friday, Youngkin said that state officials were properly enforcing state law requiring the removal of noncitizens from voter rolls. “Virginians – and Americans – will see this for exactly what it is: a desperate attempt to attack the legitimacy of the elections in the Commonwealth, the very crucible of American Democracy,” Youngkin said of the Justice Department’s lawsuit.

Kamala Harris mingled with Tehran regime operative who promotes terrorism

Kamala Harris happily met with an Iranian regime operative with close ties to groups fueling antisemitic hate on American campuses.

An Iranian-born cleric who served as head of the Iranian Navy's political-ideological office during the 1980s, Imam Mohammad Ali Elahi has deep, decades-long ties to his homeland; and has praised the Islamic Republic's bloodthirsty founder Ayatollah Khomeini and Hezbollah, saying he would die for the cause.

Harris convened with Elahi at a vaccination event at the TCF Center in Detroit in July 2021, and planned to visit his controversial Islamic House of Wisdom in Dearborn, Mich., before the tour was scrapped at the last minute due to a flood, according to the nonprofit's website.

The meeting was recounted in an explosive new report from George Washington University's Program on Extremism, which charts Iran's extensive efforts to spread hateful propaganda in the US.

The GWU report also singled out the radical Manhattan-based Alavi Foundation, once accused by federal prosecutors of serving as a "secret" front for the Iranian government.

The group has funneled nearly $500,000 to Elahi's organization since 2000, along with another nearly $1.9 million to American universities, including Columbia, according to tax records reviewed by The Post.

Elahi once called the ayatollah — the infamous architect behind the kidnapping of 53 American hostages for 444 days in 1979 — as "an exceptional religious authority," and was photographed with the zealot.

Elahi has openly expressed support for Hezbollah, which killed 241 Americans during a terrorist attack in 1983 and has been locked in a war with Israel after the Oct. 7, 2023 massacre.

Elahi, 68, maintains deep contacts to the murderous regime.

"Democrats hold a dangerously mistaken notion that Iran is part of the solution — not the main problem in the Middle East. This leads them to outreach here in the U.S. with Muslims tied to that tyrannical theocracy like Mohammad Ali Elahi," Jim Hanson, chief editor of the Middle East Forum, a DC-based think tank, told The Post. "Obama, Biden and Harris have all enabled and even funded their efforts." Elahi has openly expressed support for Hezbollah, which killed 241 Americans during a terrorist attack in 1983 and has been locked in a war with Israel after the Oct. 7, 2023 massacre.

11 million illegals would have become citizens under bill that Kamala Harris promoted

Vice President Kamala Harris touted an immigration bill from 2021 as evidence that she and President Biden worked to strengthen U.S. immigration policies ahead of the migrant crisis that has rocked the U.S. in the last three and a half years.

A review of the bill, however, shows it would have paved the way to citizenship for millions of illegal immigrants.

"At the beginning of our administration, within practically hours of taking the oath, the first bill that we offered Congress — before we worked on infrastructure, before the Inflation Reduction Act, before the Chips and Science Act, before the Bipartisan Safer Communities Act — the first bill, practically within hours of taking the oath, was a bill to fix our immigration system," Harris said when speaking with Fox News' Bret Baier last week in her first interview with Fox News since Biden dropped out of the presidential race in July and Harris ascended to the top of the Democratic ticket.

"Yes, ma'am. It was called the U.S. Citizenship Act of 2021," Baier responded, which Baier described as "essentially a pathway to citizenship."

‘It Could Feed the World’: Amaranth, a Health Trend 8,000 Years Old That Survived Colonization

Source: Shayne’s Journal #5884 * October 22, 2024

Indigenous women in North and Central America are coming together to share ancestral knowledge of amaranth, a plant booming in popularity as a health food. Extract: “Every year since then, Guatemalan farmers with Qachuu Aloom have traveled to the United States to share their knowledge of amaranth with predominantly Indigenous- and Latino-led gardens. In California, they’ve shared seeds with members of the Bishop Paiute Tribe and with urban gardens in Los Angeles; and in northern New Mexico, they’ve hosted gardening and cooking workshops in the rural community of La Madera. In 2016, when Tsosie-Peña and her colleagues at Tewa Women United broke ground on their public garden in Española, Qachuu Aloom was there to plant amaranth once again.

But Qachuu Aloom hasn’t always been the one bringing seeds – many Indigenous gardeners, such as Tsosie-Peña’s friend Roxanne Swentzell, have preserved their own amaranth. On the Hopi reservation in Arizona, for example, members of Hopi Tutskwa Permaculture still grow Hopi Red Dye Amaranth, and have shared it with Qachuu Aloom.

Tsosie-Peña says that this exchange between North and Central American farmers isn’t just about amaranth as a crop; it’s also about reconnecting to ancient trade routes that have been disrupted by increasingly militarized borders.”
